Dedicated to my Wife
Sue Wier Carpenter McKoy

Proverbs 18:22—Whoso findeth a wife, findeth a good thing, obtaineth favor of the Lord.

Genesis 2:24—Therefore shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave unto his wife, and they shall be one flesh.

Ephesians 5:33—Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself, and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

McKoy Family of North Carolina (1955)
Wilmington, N. C.—Do You Remember When? (1957)

INTRODUCTION

An interest in genealogy most certainly was bred into me. My father from his youth up had been collecting information and informing himself of his family. I heard him speak of things concerning the family many times. I saw his activity and his many records and papers. I heard, but I did not really listen, and I asked few questions in my youth.

I left my home at the age of eighteen to work, and lost the personal contact with my father. Several years before his death he gave to me his books and family papers. I can see now that it was then that my interest in genealogy quickened and flowered. In 1955 I published a book on the McKoy family of North Carolina.

In 1924 I married Sue Wier Carpenter of Greenville, South Carolina, and at once began to note, to write down, and to collect information concerning her family. Mrs. Kate Wier Wynne, my wife's aunt, had some information of the Wier family, and her interest in it found a willing ear on my part.

For thirty-five years I have been making notes and writing down any information that I came across. At different times as the occasion presented itself, I have searched the records in the County Court Houses in this vicinity. I have studied the wills and the deeds and have copied many. I have walked over hundreds of cemeteries and have read and copied thousands of inscriptions from the grave stones. I have visited libraries. I have read many South Carolina state, county, and local histories. Most of this was done at odd times during a busy life concerned with making a living. Some few years ago I retired, and genealogy has become one of my many hobbies and pleasures.

I have now just begun to get together some correct, proper, and valuable information. Certainly it is nowhere near complete, nor is it as accurate as I would desire. But the years are passing, and after having seen the labors of others vanish into thin air because they had not recorded what they knew, I feel that I must put down in black and white the information and the material that I have, before it too is scattered to the winds and lost perhaps for always.

By far this record is mostly true, accurate, and correct. That there are many errors I am fully conscious. I am sorry for these errors. But even errors may be of some value to those who find them. For sometimes a glaring error will light the way for others to find the truth.

MAXWELL

GENERAL ROBERT MAXWELL was a soldier of the Revolutionary War. He was originally from Londerry, Ireland. Just after the war he built a house which is still standing. It is 1½ miles from Pelzer, S. C., on the Greenville Road. The place is now owned by Lenhardt. A price was set on his head by George III. After the war he was a member of the Continental Congress. He was shot from ambush and killed in 1797 while crossing the shoals of Saluda River, on horseback, at a point where now stands the dam of Piedmont Mills. He had started from his home to ride to Pendleton Court House. His assailant, who was disguised as an Indian, was never discovered. He was buried on his plantation, and his monument bears this inscription "In memory of Robert Maxwell who died in 1797. He was a Whig, a soldier and a Christian."

1. ROBERT DUFF MAXWELL, M.D., of Pendleton, S. C. was born June 28, 1817. He died June 24, 1859. He married Lucy Catherine Sloan on Sept. , 1840. She was born Feb. 12, 1823, and died Jan. 28, 1896. She was the daughter of David Sloan, Jr., and Nancy Trimmier.

WIER

JOHN WIER was born 1750. He died 1780. He was a Private in the South Carolina Militia during the Revolutionary War. He was captured by the British at the Battle of Briar Creek, near Augusta, Georgia, and was taken to Charleston and placed aboard a prison ship in the harbor, where he died. He was first buried at St. Phillip's Episcopal Church yard. Later the body was removed by his wife and son to the Greenville Presbyterian Church yard, near what is now Donalds, S. C. The Daughters of the American Revolution in 1952 erected tombstones to both him and his wife.

John Wier, Sr., married Mary Stewart, the daughter of William Stewart and Jennet Caldwell. She was born in 1762 and died about 1835. Her father, William Stewart, was a private also in the Revotionary War in the 3rd S. C. Regiment. Stewart was born in 1736 and died about 1822. William Stewart is also buried in a marked grave in the same cemetery.

After the death of John Wier, his wife Mary married Robert Richey, Jr. He was born in 1754 and died in 1828.

ENOCH BERRY BENSON
1789–1860

Enoch Berry Benson was the first child of Thomas Benson and Rebecca (Marthy) Prince. According to Simpson's History of Old Pendleton District, S. C., Enoch B. Benson's parents came from Virginia. We read in Crittenden's Century Book, of Greenville, S.C., printed in 1903, that Thomas Benson was the State Senator from Greenville County in 1820. Crittenden also states that he owned and ran a mill at what was later known as the "Bolling Place," near Traveler's Rest, S.C.

After examining many deeds and wills at the Spartanburg County Court House, I find that the family of Prince was well established in that county in the early part of the eighteenth century, and also that the name of Berry was connected with it. There was a possibility in my mind that Rebecca (Marthy) Prince might be connected with this family instead of coming with her husband direct from Virginia as Col. Simpson states. This will bear further inquiry.

Enoch Berry Benson was born on Sept. 27th, 1789. He married Ester Blassingame. She was the daughter of Gen. John Blassingame who served in the War of 1812. Ester Blassingame's brother John married Sarah Maria Sloan, the daughter of David Sloan, Jr., of Anderson, S.C., with whom the Benson family is connected by other lines.

Enoch Berry Benson and Ester Blassingame had the following children: Martha Benson, who married Dr. A. P. Cates; Eliza Ann Benson, who married Col. John Trimmier Sloan (he died in 1896;) Amanda Benson, who married Dr. James W. Earle; Mary Benson, who married Gen. James W. Harrison; John Benson, who married Elizabeth Norton; Ester Benson, who was born Feb. 27, 1827, and died Sept. 30, 1866, and was buried at Old Stone Church (she married Hewlett S. Moore); Rebecca Guillard Benson, born Feb. 6, 1837, and died Aug. 3, 1862 (she married Benjamin Franklin Sloan); and Thomas Benson, who died as a soldier in the Confederate War.

Enoch Berry Benson lived at one time at Spartanburg, S.C., and we find on record at the Spartanburg Court House that he purchased from W. J. Puckett on Feb. 28, 1811, for the sum of $200.00 "A lot of land in the village of Spartanburg numbering 8 and 9, containing one half acre each. Bounded on the east by Gabriel Benson's lot, west by Richard Thompson's land, and on the south fronting Main Street. Together with a dwelling house." Witnessed by John Prince Benson and Charles McBee. We also find on record that E. B. Benson sold land to Jesse Cleveland on Lawson Fork, in 1818, among several others. There is a deed on record in Pickens County for five lots in the town of Pickens from Johnathan Reeder to Enoch B. Benson dated 1830, also a deed "On the third Monday of October, 1828," for 130 acres in Pickens County on Cane Branch of the Keowee River.

In a History of Old Stone Church by Richard Newman Brackett, printed in Columbia in 1905, we find that Enoch Berry Benson is mentioned numerous times. It is stated that E. B. Benson along with eleven other men met on Oct. 4, 1832, and issued a call by Crosby W. Miller to the Presbytery of South Carolina for Rev. Richard B. Cater to become the pastor of the Hopewell-Keowee Presbyterian Church (Old Stone Church). Later it states that Enoch B. Benson was baptized and admitted as a member of the Hopewell Church on Nov. 2, 1832. Evidently he was among a group that invited the pastor before he actually became a member.

In the records of this church, which fortunately have been preserved and are recorded in this book, we find that on Feb. 9, 1834, Enoch B. Benson consented, after being elected, to become an Elder in this Presbyterian Church and was installed and ordained at "an impressive ceremony." Thereafter his name is mentioned as being present and active in the affairs of this church at every meeting.

Vandiver's History of Anderson County (1928) informs us that Enoch Berry Benson along with Benjamine F. Sloan, Thomas M. Sloan, John T. Sloan, and Joseph Grisham bought the land and formed the Cotton Manufacturing Company on July 20, 1836. It was called later the Auton Mills and is the oldest mill in Anderson County. The building was of brick and was 50-ft. wide and 150-ft. long and was two stories in height. Enoch Berry Benson died on March 4, 1860, and was buried in the old Stone Church graveyard, the church which he had labored for and with, first as a member and then as an Elder, for so many years. His grave is marked with a granite stone with this inscription: E. B. Benson, son of Thomas and Martha Prince Benson. Sept. 27th., 1789—March 4, 1860. "The last end of a good man is peace. How calm his exit. His summoned breath went forth as peacefully, as folds the spent rose when the day is done."

JOHN PRINCE BENSON
1793–1855

John Prince Benson was the third child and second son in a family of seven that were born to Thomas Benson and Rebecca (Marthy) Prince. He was born on Jan. 8th, 1793.

He married Catherine Sloan on Dec. 21, 1819, she being seventeen years old at that time. She was the twelfth and last child of David and Susan Majors Sloan of Anderson District, S.C.

They had the following children:

Rebecca Sloan Benson	b. May 21, 1823	d. April 5, 1849
Martha Evaline Benson	b. Feb. 6, 1826	d. Oct. 1, 1905
David Sloan Benson	b. Jan. 28, 1829	d. 1904
Susan Majors Benson	b. Jan. 14, 1832	d. Feb. 22, 1898
Thomas Prue Benson	b. Jan. 10, 1835	d. Oct. 9, 1880
Nancy Taylor Benson	b. Aug. 6, 1837	d.
Mary Prince Benson	b. Feb. 2, 1840	d. July 19, 1921
Sarah Elizabeth Benson	b. Nov. 22, 1842	d. 1849

There is in the files of Henry B. McKoy (1959) a letter written to Mrs. Katherine Benson by John Prince Benson dated June 30, 1849, which gives us most of the intimate life that we know of this couple. It follows:

> Addressed to Mrs. Catherine Benson, Six Mile, Pickens District, S. C., via hand of Wm. Keith. Dated, Anderson, S. C. 30th June, 1849. My dear wife: I wrote you to send by Wm. Keith, but he gave out going and I now send the same letter along as I had it written and sealed. I thought I would drop you a few lines more, as he is to go in the morning. Our boys, Sloan and Prue, arrived at home about one o'clock or a little after. Both well and have a good deal to say about their trip. They have brought me good news of your being better, which I hope you will continue to mend and improve. It will give great pleasure to find you still mending when I get up. I think now I will come up on Thursday and will stay a day or two. All of your friends here seem to be very much pleased to hear that you are improving. I hope the trip will be of service to the children as well as yourself. The boys mention that Mr. Oliver said that we would soon be out of corn up there. I wish you to say to him that I have plenty of corn here. But I am so busy that it will be out of my power to haul it up. You have two of the mules with you, and they are corn fed, and I have the whole of Billy's team on the railroad; therefore I can not haul it up. I wish him to go up on Monday, which is sale day at Pickens, and see if he can not get some delivered to him up there. I would suppose there is plenty of corn up there. And for the sake of the money, I would suppose they would haul it to him for fifty cents per bushel at least. If not I will haul from here after I get done plowing. If he runs out he must try and get some anyhow, to do until I can > get some up. I mentioned in the other letter several things that I wish done. Try and have the plank put up all along the front of the house. I think it will make it much cooler for you. I think you need not be uneasy about home, as I think everything is very well. Mrs. Miller is very attentive to everything, and I think they all begin to understand her. I believe that everyone about the house is well and the only difficulty is to get enough for them to eat, but I think we have been able to do so as yet. You must kiss all of my children and accept my most sincere love and affection yourself. I remain your sincere husband. P.S. I wish you to urge Mr. Oliver to try and stop the mill dam. And try and save the water so he can saw the balance of the bill for Mr. Langston & Whitaker, and the one they sent up by Wash, Wm. Allen's boy. I think if he will take all the boys and take two battoes (boats) and dust the dam properly, he may be able to stop it. I hope he will succeed. Signed J. P. Benson.

We have a photograph of Catherine Sloan Benson, which is rather faded but shows a stout woman with a lace collar, a black shirt waist, and a white cap. She has a full, round face and a high forehead.

John Prince Benson's daughter, Martha Evaline Benson, married Baylis F. Crayton, who (according to S. S. Crittenden's Century Book) was born in a one-and-a-half-story frame building that stook where the former Mansion House stood, and now occupied by the Poinset Hotel in Greenville, S. C. He was born July 15, 1820, and died Feb. 5, 1907. He later moved to Anderson with his family.

John Prince Benson (according to the History of Anderson County by Vandiver) built and operated the Benson House, in Anderson, S.C. This old Hostelry was connected with much of Anderson's early life. In 1872 Mr. Thomas M. White, who married Miss Nancy Taylor Benson, became its proprietor. Benson Street, which is south of the main square, obtained its name from this hotel and from Mr. Benson. This hotel was taken down in the early eighties to be replaced by a more modern structure.

John Prince Benson bought and lived in a famous house in Anderson, which was built by Mr. Van Lawhorn. In 1836 Samuel Cherry owned it, later Dr. Cater. Mrs. Benson was a great lover of flowers, and had a large and beautiful garden on either side of the home.

John Prince Benson died August 12, 1855, and was buried beside his wife in the grave yard of the First Presbyterian Church of Anderson, S.C. Both graves are covered and marble slabs marked with dates of birth and death.

Susan Majors Benson
Wife of John Alexander Wier
Born Jan. 13, 1832

SUSAN MAJORS BENSON

1832–1898

Susan Majors Benson was the daughter of John Prince Benson and Catherine Sloan. She was born at Anderson Court House on January 14, 1832.

She was named Susan Majors for her grandmother Susan Majors, who married the original David Sloan of Sloan's Ferry near Anderson, S. C. Her name, Sue, was handed down to her granddaughter, Sue Wier McKoy, nee Carpenter, and to her great-great-granddaughter, Sue Carpenter Ehling. She was educated at the Anderson Female Seminary in Anderson, S.C.

We have a letter written to her by John Alexander Wier on June 24, 1850, which was the day before their marriage. It states in part:

> Mr. Cochrane desires to be one of my attendants. I have spoken to Mr. McSwain, and he will also act if he can leave his store. I will bring ten young men and three ladies. Mag wishes you to put her with one of your Anderson young men, as she thinks Mr. Martin and Mr. McIlwain would rather stand up with some of your Anderson girls. I look forward to our marriage as the crowning act of all earthly pleasures. Then I will have one dear creature to sympathize with me in adversity and to exult with me in prosperity. As ever yours: John A. Wier.

She married John Alexander Wier on June 25, 1850, in Anderson, S.C. They had the following children:

Katherine Sloan Wier	b. Aug. 14, 1852	d. Mar. 14, 1942
John Benson Wier	b. Dec. 22, 1854	d. Nov. 25, 1943
Alexander Sloan Wier	b. June 18, 1857	d. June 22, 1860
Joel Cunningham Wier	b. July 8, 1859	d. Dec. 19, 1931
Augustus Lythgoe Wier	b. May 4, 1862	d. June 3, 1863
Margaret Ann Wier	b. June 26, 1864	d. Aug. 10, 1952
Susan Evaline Wier	b. Aug. 28, 1867	d. Sept. 1, 1870
Leila May Wier	b. May 5, 1870	d. Sept. 22, 1889

She lived after her marriage at first in Anderson, but soon moved to Abbeville, S.C. which was the former home of her husband. He was engaged for many years there as a merchant, and they lived in a two-story house on Main Street. The house is still standing and is used at present as a Community House and library for the city.

During the war her husband was employed as a civilian in the quartermaster department of the Confederate Army, he being too old at that time to take active service with the troops. He was in charge of the commissary at Charleston.

They moved to Greenville, S. C., in 1878 and lived there with their son, John Benson Wier, on North Main Street, who was engaged in the grocery business.

We have a number of her letters written to her daughters, Annie and Kate, and also letters written to her granddaughter and namesake, Sue Wier Carpenter. Several letters are at hand from her brother, Prue Benson, which were written while in active service in the Confederate Army in Virginia. These letters tell us a great deal of her education, her thoughts, and talents.

She was quite artistic and had considerable talent which had been nurtured and developed during her schooling. She did beautiful embroidery and drawn work. She also did quite a bit of painting. We have a piece of her work in about a four-inch square showing a delicate and detailed red vase on black velvet. This was made in 1870.

There are several good photographs of her, one of which shows her holding her daughter, Annie Wier, in her lap, taken about 1867. These photographs show a face strong in character and intellect, and yet soft and sweet. She had wavy black hair.

Her great granddaughter has her mahogany bureau which was in her bed room at the time of her marriage. Sue Wier McKoy has a silver cup with the name Susan on it that belonged to her. We also have a leather bound autograph book belonging to her which is dated 1847 with her name on it.

She was a Scotch Presbyterian and joined the Long Cane Presbyterian Church after her marriage, having formerly been associated with the Anderson Presbyterian Church at her home.

She died on Feb. 22, 1898, while visiting her son, Joel Cunningham Wier, at Ninety Six, S. C. She was buried beside her husband at Long Cane Church, and there is a stone monument to their graves.

THOMAS BENSON

1769–1843

We are told that Thomas Benson came to South Carolina from the state of Virginia. He married Rebecca (Marthy) Prince. She was born Oct. 25, 1761. From examination of court records and deeds in Greenville and Spartanburg Counties, we believe her to be a daughter of Thomas Prince and Sarah Berry. Thomas Benson was born March 7, 1769. He died in 1843.

Thomas Benson and Rebecca Prince had issue:

Cathy Benson	b. Oct. 24, 1787
Enoch Berry Benson	b. Sept. 27, 1789	married Ester Blassingame
John Prince Benson	b. Jan. 8, 1793	married Catherine Sloan
Mary Prince Benson	b. Mar. 11, 1796	married Mr. Wynne, moved to Georgia.
Harriett Benson	b. May 20, 1798	married John Michel Webb moved to Miss.
Evaline Benson	b. April 14, 1803	married Benson Roberts
Emily Benson	b. May 2, 1805	married Sidney Linton, moved to Florida.

S. S. Crittenden's Greenville Century Book, published in 1903, states on page No. 36, "Mr. Thomas Benson who lived and owned a mill on what is now known as the Bolling Place, near Travelers Rest had a granddaughter Mrs. Martha Benson who married Bayles F. Crayton. Mr. Thomas Benson was elected Senator in 1820."

A granddaughter of Thomas Benson was Martha E. Benson (Mrs. Baylis E. Crayton). S. S. Crittenden says in his history, "the hospitality of their home and the profusion that accompanied it, in such homes of South Carolina planters of the antibellum days."

Thomas Benson's son, John Prince Benson, moved to Anderson and married Catherine Sloan, daughter of David Sloan. She and her husband built and operated the Benson Hotel, a famous hostelry that stood on the west side of North Main Street, where Sullivan Hardware is now (1958). Benson Street, which bounds the square on the south, was named from the hotel, which though it faced Main Street, yet abutted on the square on the north side. This old hotel was connected with much of Anderson's early life.

Thomas Benson died in 1843 and is buried in the Episcopal Church Cemetery at Pendleton, S. C.

THOMAS PRUE BENSON
Born 1835 – Died 1880

THOMAS PRUE BENSON

1835–1880

Thomas Prue Benson was the fifth of eight children born to John Prince Benson and Catherine Sloan of Anderson, South Carolina. He was born on January 10, 1835. It is my belief, after reading a number of wills recorded in Greenville and Spartanburg Counties, S. C., that he was named for his grandfather's brother, who was named Prue Benson, and whose will is recorded on April 6, 1802.

Thomas Prue Benson married Sarah J. L. McGee. She was called and is better known as Mal McGee. She was born in 1835, and she died on Feb. 13, 1858. They had two children, first, Eugenia Benson, who married D. P. McBrayer, and second, Maggie (Mamie) Benson, who married Robert Ligon. She is buried in the First Presbyterian Churchyard at Anderson, S. C., and the grave is marked with a slab.

We have an excellent photograph taken of him when he was about forty years old, showing a well-formed man with heavy black hair, beard, and mustache.

He joined the Confederate army early in the struggle, and the most that we know of him we get from a score of letters that have been saved, which were written by him over a period of three or more years. These letters are a story in themselves, and tell in detail of his hopes, his fears, his thoughts, and actions. He tells of battles, the killed and wounded, the missing. He writes for warm underclothing and thanks his sister for thread and buttons. He is hungry and wet. He laughs. He tells of seeing a letter that was published, written by a companion to his father, in which his actions in battle are very much exaggerated. He laughs at this. He is tired and wants to come home, in peace, and see an end to this "horrible war."

Some of his letters I am quoting below, others I am only listing as to places and dates with comments:

From Columbia	May 16, 1861	Mentions Butler Guards
From Camp Walker, Va.	Aug. 1, 1861
From Camp Walker, Va.	July 31, 1861
From Camp Halcomb	July 14, 1861
From Germantown, Pa.	Sept. 1, 1861	Confederate Flag on stationary
From Germantown, Pa.	Sept. 2, 1861

From Germantown, Pa.	Sept. 8, 1861
From Centerville, Va.	Jan. 1861
From Camp near Richmond, Va.	Jan. 9, 1862	Co. C, Junkin Palmetto Sharpshooters
From Camp Griffin	Jan. 23, 1862	5th Reg., S. C. Reserves
From Centerville, Va.	Jan. 10, 1862
From near Spottsylvania, Va.	May 16, 1864

His wife had died several years before the war. That is the reason these letters are written to his mother and his sister, Susan Majors Wier, who were looking after his small children.

Thomas Prue Benson died on Oct. 9, 1880, at the age of forty-five years. He was buried in The First Presbyterian Churchyard of Anderson, S. C., and his grave is marked with a marble slab. His body lies near that of his wife.

Copied by Henry B. McKoy on Nov. 5, 1958, from a handwritten letter in pencil on blue-lined paper: To Susan Majors Benson.

Columbia, S. C.
May 16th, 1861

Dear Sister:

I received your welcome letter and the box containing the cakes and the pears, for which I return you the thanks of the mess. For the drawers I am very much obliged to you. They are just what I wanted. They are not quite as large as I would like to have had them, but they are large a plenty for me. I had everything fixed to leave for Aiken last night but did not get off as the order was countermanded after we all had retired to our comfortable bed of blanket. Lieutenant Felton, myself, and ten privates was to have gone in order to have the tents for the rest of the company, by Friday, the day they were to arrive. But why the order was countermanded I do not know. We have all moved up to where the BUTLER GUARDS were quartered and all doing first rate.

Give my love to all the family. Tell Brother he must write often. I know he has more time to write now than I have, for by the time night comes I am very tired, and do not feel like doing anything but sleeping. So if I should not answer yours or his as soon as I should you must not think I think any the less of you. But write often, the time has arrived for roll call, I will have to go downstairs and answer to my name. Remember me to all my friends.

Your brother,
Prue.

Dear Sister:

Your very welcome letter was received a few days ago. I was glad to hear that Mr. Wier was so much better. I received a letter from Sister Eva which told me of Aleck's sickness. I suppose you have heard of the Battle on the 21st. (Sunday). A day that old Scott has the name of always commencing his battles on. He had 55 thousand troops against 18 thousand Confederates. But there was only 8 thousands actively engaged of our troops, the Yankees almost that.

The killed, wounded, missing 6 thousand, but Gen. Beauregard thinks ten thousand, while we the Confederates lost 1500. That is counting the killed, wounded and missing. Our company had one killed on the field, A. D. Browne, and seven wounded and two missing. Cousin Jim Sloan was shot, the ball passing through just under his cheek bone. Wilton Earle was wounded and has since died. Bollz Hubbard was badly wounded. John Cochran, Andrew Hall, but the doctor says they will get over it. The rest were slightly wounded. Cousin Robt. Lewis and Jimmy McFall are the two missing from our company and I think they were taken prisoners.

Andrew Hall was wounded, taken prisoner. Says he saw two men carry Jimmy McFall off and his impression is that Robert Lewis was taken prisoner. Also as the Yankees went so far as to hoist one of our flags that they had made before leaving Washington. Scott mustered 20 thousand regulars in on that day, all that he could get there in time. I would like to give you a full description of all, but I have not the time. When they commenced to retreat they would shoot their own horses, so turn their wagons across the road, to keep our troop from following them.

The Confederate troops took over two million dollars worth of Artillery ammunition and guns. We succeeded in getting the best battery in the United States. This is the Sherman Battery. It is composed of rifle cannon primarily. I must close as I have one more letter to write. Give my love to Brother and all of our family.

Your affectionate Brother
Thos. P. Benson

P.S. You are aware that ink is a scarce article in camp.

This letter was written by Thomas P. Benson to his mother, Catherine Sloan Benson. He was 26 years old at the time.

Camp near Germantown, Va.
Sept. 8th, 1861.

Dear Mother:

I would have written two or three days ago, but I was waiting to receive a letter from some one at home. I have not received one so I concluded that I would write to you and ask that you all write to me, as often as you can, for a letter from anyone of you does me a great deal of good, and you know when a fellow is away in the war, it makes him feel cheerful. I expect there is a letter on the way for me, but the mails are so irregular that we can not make any arrangements, but we all live in hopes of a better time some day. We have been camped here longer than we ever have at another camp, and if we remain here until tomorrow we will have been here four weeks since my last letter. We have had alarm, but nothing done, only to get our guns, trapping on and sit about ready to march for two or three hours, and then the alarm would turn out to be false. So you see the uncertainty of a soldier's life. One moment he is sitting or lying resting very comfortably in his tent, and then the next he is ordered to be in readiness to march in a minutes warning. I suppose you have seen Wm. Earle Seaborn's letter to his father in the Guardian, and also in the S. Presbyterian. If not, get it and read it. The boys talk about it a great deal. He is up at Leesburg, sick at present. And well for him, or the boys would tease him a great deal, about all that he did on the day of the Battle.

I have just seen one of the Pickens-Keeowee Couriers this morning. I see Tom Sloan has written a piece, in that, as for anything in the way new. There is none here. Only report and we never believe any, as we hear so many.

Ben Smith is at the hospital sick with a bilious attack. He is improving. He has been there a week tomorrow, I think he will be able for duty, in a few days. I intended to go to see him today, but I could not get a horse to ride, so I did not go as it is five miles out there. You know that I am not so fond of walking especially when you hear from them nearly every day.

Mr. Parinell (?) Lewis is quite sick there. Mr. Williamson died on the 3rd of Sept., 1861. Lawrence Land is good deal better. He is able to sit up and walk a short distance. He is improving very fast.

You will find a note enclosed for Messers Smith & Clark which I wish you would have sent to him, as I wish him to make a coat and a pair of pants for me. I wish them as soon as I can get them. And when he has finished them I wish you would buy a small trunk, and if you have one you can send them in it. I forgot the old red trunk that I carried with me when I went North. If there is anything to do in the way of fixing it. Have it done and send with the clothes, two vests, and if you can get a coverlet for myself and a blanket for Henderson in the trunk, send them along. And a small portfolio and a few pens and holders.

I suppose that you heard that I was elected Third Lieutenant, and a few days ago Joe McGee told me, he had seen sister Ev., who told him about me.

I received 35 votes and James A. Hoyt 20. Joe Hatchet 1 and blank, so there was only 57 votes polled, I — — him and was not particular — I suppose some one voted for him, — not — which was elected.

I think Mr. A. Hoyt was appointed orderly Sergeant and Mr. A. McFall their second sergeant(?).

I will close, sending my love to all the family, as Mr. Fwelton says, he wishes me to write some for him, kiss the children for me. Tell Kate & Sammy to write me as I suppose all their time is not taken up with writing to their father. I will try and write to some of you once a week.

Your affectionate son,
Thos. P. Benson.

Dear Mother:

I have an opportunity to have a letter mailed, but whether you will ever receive it or not I can't say. We received a mail this morning, the first that we have received since we left Gordonville two weeks ago. I am enjoying first rate health, only suffering from a little headache, caused, I guess from losing so much sleep as there has been but one or two nights out of the last nine or ten, that we have not been marching, or on duty. We are now behind our breastworks in line of battle. Though everything seems to be very quiet at the present, how long it will remain so I can't say.

I suppose you have seen through the papers, more about how the Battle has gone, than I can write. I understand that our loss is between five and seven thousand. They (the Yankees) made several charges against our breastworks, but were unsuccessful on our left. Then massed their troops on our right and broke our line in one place. But it did not get far before they were repulsed. It was Johnston Division Enil (?) Corps. in at least one Brigade in that Division that gave way, and I had one man killed in my company. John Richey killed and five wounded: P. M. Jenkins, shot in shoulder; W. L. Lamb, shot in face; G. G. Keown, shot in arm and shoulder; E. W. Stewart, shot in foot; T. B. Burriss, hit with a spent ball in the shoulder, has returned to the company and is doing duty now with the company. This all happened Friday, the — of — was in the Wilderness. Lieutenant McCully was wounded on the 9th. Shot through the left thigh, flesh wound. The bone was not injured, but a very severe flesh wound.

Lieut. Hoyt has been sent to the hospital sick, so I am alone with the company. Our division was in a reserve a day or two ago and was near General McGowan's Brigade. I walked up to it and saw Charlie Winn, and a good many of my acquaintances, in the 1st Rifle regiment. As usual that regiment suffered pretty heavy loss. John McBride was taken prisoner. He was the color bear-er and I hear in his regiment the day I was there. I have not heard from home in several weeks, though I suppose there has not been many mails sent from Richmond. I received a letter from Emma this morning, but will not answer it today as I have no writing material with me at the present.

I begged this sheet and envelope from one of the men. I hope that the fighting will soon quit and we may be able to sit down quietly in camp and write.

And above all I hope that our Army may be crowned with victory, and this horrible war stopped, and all may return home in peace.

Give my love to all the family and kiss the children for me. — belong to a Texas regiment it was that — Mr. Jordan who lives near Abbeville; he was well and so far safe.

Your affectionate son,
Thos. P. Benson

ALFRED BAXTER CARPENTER

Alfred Baxter Carpenter was born at Piercetown, in Anderson County, S. C. The old home was on the Dunham Bridge Road, ten miles from Anderson, and one mile from Tucker's Gin. He was born on July 20th., 1857, just three years before the Civil War.

He was the son of Frederick Garrison Carpenter and Nancy Wilson Carpenter, and had the following brothers and sisters: Sarah Catherine Carpenter, who was born August 21,1850, and married R. Gourdin Sloan; Thomas Summerfield Carpenter, who was born May 21, 1860, and who married Annie Wier; Lou Alice Carpenter, who was born August 1, 1863, and married John T. Woodside; John Frederick Lee Carpenter, born May 11, 1865, and who married Sue Ellen Lewis; Walter Browne Carpenter, born November 11; 1868, who married Lola Gower, and William Edgar Carpenter, who died at the age of 14 years, born 1871, died 1885.

He married Mary Cleveland Briggs on February 22, 1882, and had the following children: Belle Carpenter, born April 20, 1883, who married F. G. Yost; Frederick Garrison Carpenter, born September 12, 1884, who married Mary Margaret Hemsley on December 29, 1914; Alexander Carpenter, born March 10, 1889, died March 11, 1889; and Lou Alice Carpenter born April 8, 1891, and died June 26, 1891.

He was educated in the common schools at Westminister and at Seneca under the late Professor Carlisle. While at Westminster he probably lived with his Grandmother, who had a home one mile east of Westminster and died in 1876.

He opened a drug store in Pelzer in 1883, and I find in an old advertisement that D. T. Bacot and Carpenter had a store in Pelzer and dealt in drugs, paints, oils, brushes, lamps, and lamp goods. Also that they sold and manufactured "Bacot's Never-Failing Liniment."

In 1889 he came to Greenville and with his brother, John Lee Carpenter, opened up a drug store known as the A.B. & J.L. Carpenter Drug Store. They bought out a drug store known as the Mansion House Drug Store, from Earl & Legge, who occupied a store in the Mansion House just north of the lobby. This store later became known as Carpenter Brothers' Drug Store and consisted of a partnership of the four brothers, including Thomas Summerfield and Walter Brown Carpenter. And they stayed in this location for nearly thirty years.

He was the senior member of the firm and was the oldest boy. He was the businessman of the partnership, and under his direction they opened up four other stores and bought additional property, which proved to be an excellent investment in later years. They had branch stores at Brandon, at Woodside Mill, at the Southern Depot, and on North Main Street near the Ottaray Hotel. He was instrumental in getting others to erect the Ottaray Hotel, and his store, the Ottaray Drug Store, was the first place of business in the 200 block of North Main Street.

For years he traveled for Vetterlien Bros. and sold Sabrossa Cigars. And for years he received a commission on every Sabrossa Cigar sold in South Carolina.

He was interested in many public enterprises. He was president of the Masonic Temple Corporation, which erected the present Masonic Building. And he was a Mason. He was one of the incorporators of Woodside Mill, of which his brother-in-law, John T. Woodside, was President. He helped incorporate the American Bank. He was a Scottish Rite Mason. He was a member of the U. C. T. and the T. P. A. and the Iowa State Traveling Men's Association. He organized the first T. P. A. post in Greenville. He was one of the organizers of the Rowena Lodge of the Knights of Pythias. He was member of the Second Presbyterian Church.

He died on December 10, 1918, at 3:25 P.M. The funeral was held from his brother's home at 606 East Washington, and he was buried in Springwood Cemetery in Greenville, South Carolina.

ALFRED MOORE CARPENTER

1805–1867

Alfred Moore Carpenter was born in 1805. His father was Burwell Carpenter, and his mother was Elizabeth Mattison of Ninty Six District.

It is assumed that he was born in what is now Anderson County, as his father's estate was settled and probated there.

He married Catherine Browne Ledbetter. He had six brothers: Delany Carpenter, who married Crawford; Burwell Carpenter, unmarried; Thomas Carpenter, John Carpenter, who married Elizabeth ; Asbury Carpenter, who married; and William Carpenter, and three sisters: Polly Carpenter, who married Labaen Massey; Elizabeth, who married Stone; and Sarah, who married Geer.

Through examining the records at the court house of Oconee County in Walhalla, South Carolina, I find that Alfred Moore Carpenter owned a home located one mile east of the village of Westminster. His home was on the present railroad, as he deeded from it a right-of-way on March 15, 1873, to the Atlanta and Richmond Railway Company. The description of his property mentions Colonels Fork Creek and Coneross Creek.

He owned 239 acres which adjoined lands of Wm. Jeans, J. J. Messer, James A. Johns, and others.

He evidently was a Methodist, for on November 6, 1855, he sold 5 acres of his land to the Trustees of the Methodist Church for the purpose of erecting a church, and he himself was named as one of the nine Trustees. This land was described as being in Pickens District on a branch of Goodland Creek or Colonels Fork of Coneross Creek, waters of Seneca River.

This home was conveyed to him in two tracts by John C. Gordon and John Garner on the 14th day of January, 1849.

He sold this land and home to two of his sons, Thomas J. Carpenter and John T. Carpenter, for $800.00 on January 2, 1859.

These brothers, Thomas J. and John T. who were unmarried, continued to live on this property in Westminster, South Carolina, until their death sometime before 1875. Apparently the mother, Catherine Browne Ledbetter Carpenter, wife of Alfred Moore, lived with them at that time.

On December 23, 1875, Elizabeth P. Abbott, nee Carpenter, requested a division of the property of her brothers, John T. and Thomas J. which consisted of the home and land in Westminster.

Alfred Moore Carpenter had five sons and two daughters: John T. Carpenter and Thomas J. Carpenter, unmarried; Frederick Garrison Carpenter (from whom Sue Wier Carpenter McKoy is descended), who married Nancy Wilson; Joseph N. Carpenter, who married Julia D. Webb; Nancy Ann Carpenter, who married Robert Gadd of Charlotte, North Carolina, in 1870; Alfred B. Carpenter, who also married Julia D. Webb after his brother's death; and Elizabeth P. Carpenter, who married Abbott.

Alfred Moore Carpenter was born in 1805 and died in 1867. He was married in 1825 to Catherine Browne Ledbetter, who was born in 1804 and died in 1876.

Alfred Carpenter was evidently living in Oconee County at the time of his death in 1867, as his will was recorded there on August 21, 1867. His property, which was small, was sold and divided. The inventory included a tract of land of 200 acres, valued at $600.00, and other items. His son, Frederick Garrison Carpenter, was born in 1827, assuming him to be their first son, as the father was 22 years old. I would guess that Alfred Carpenter was born about 1805. Married in 1825 and died 1867.

We do not know where he or his wife were buried but would think it was somewhere in the neighborhood of Westminster, possibly in a Methodist Cemetery. The graves may have been unmarked.

A deed in Anderson County court house shows that Burwell Carpenter on August 12, 1825, sold 90 acres for $300.00 to Alfred Moore Carpenter on Neals Creek, a branch of Broadway Creek, where Alfred Carpenter now lives in Pendleton District, adjoining land of William Ackers, with Soloman Geer as witness, Book R, page No. 227.

There is also a deed in Anderson County court house in Book B-2, page 70, where Alfred M. Carpenter sold to Stephen Shirley for $228.00—338 acres of land on Branch of Hencoop Creek on January 20, 1853.

The inventory of the Alfred M. Carpenter Estate in Apt. No. 2, file 12, recorded Aug. 31, 1867, lists as follows:

3 Small tables	3.00
1 Lot of boards	1.00
1 Trunk	2.00
1 Small Table	.50
1 Trunk	.50
1 Chest	1.00
3 Quilts	5.00
3 Counterpins	3.00
1 Bedstead & Straw Bed 1 Quilt, 2 Sheets	5.00
1 Large Brass Frame Looking Glass	5.00
1 Loom	5.00
1 Cupboard	5.00
1 Lot Crockery	2.00
1 Tea Kettle	1.00
1 Flat Skillet	1.00
4 Chairs	1.00
1 Tract Land 200 Acres	600.00
1 Bureau	15.00
1 Bedstead	10.00
1 Buggy	40.00

He purchased some land also on Coneross Creek from William B. Kay in 1855, as recorded in Pickens County Court House in Book I-1, Page 414.

BURWELL CARPENTER

All that I know of Burwell Carpenter has been obtained in the records at the Court House in Anderson and Greenville County. From these records I hav attempted to place certain dates which are estimated and reasonably close. Born 1780, married 1800, died 1830.

Burwell married Elizabeth Mattison. It is estimated that she was born in 1782, married in 1800, and died about 1835. She was the daughter of James Mattison, who married Francis Newton Wyatt. He was born Jan. 13, 1748, the son of William Mattison. Francis Newton Wyatt was born Dec. 23, 1767. James Mattison's will is at Anderson Court House, in Book 11, Page 275, and is witnessed by J. M. Carpenter, James F. Mattison, and William P. Martin. His daughters are listed in the will as Matilda Townsend, Elizabeth Carpenter (wife of Burwell Carpenter), Lettice Gambrel, Maria Smith, and Mary Cox. James Mattison is buried at Broad Mouth Baptist Church, on the road between Honea Path and Ware Shoals, S. C. James Mattison was born in Virginia on August 20, 1762. He died in South Carolina July 3rd, 1849. He was in the Revolutionary War.

In the Judge of Probate's office in Anderson, in file 91, is a will probated on January 24, 1830, which gives much information. It is as follows:

ANDERSON COUNTY
File #91

WILL OF BURWELL CARPENTER

20th. Day of August - - 1830
Probated January 24, 1830

In the name of God, Amen, I, Burwell Carpenter, etc. (some of this omitted)—

1. I give and bequeath to my beloved wife, Elizabeth, all my property of every nature except as listed below.
2. To the children of Labaen Massey, by my deceased daughter, Polly—$1.00.
3. To my daughter, Elizabeth Stone—$1.00.
4. To my son, Willie—$1.00.
5. To my daughter, Delany Crawford—$1.00.
6. To my daughter, Sarah Geer—$1.00.
7. To my son, whereas it has pleased God not to bless my son, Burwell, with that forsight that would enable him to provide for > himself. I therefore give him one bed and furniture, one cow and calf, and my old bay mare which I leave in the hands of the executors for his use.

> 8. To the heirs of my son, Asbury Carpenter, deceased, I give one dollar.
> 9. To my son, Thomas Carpenter, one dollar.
> 10. To my son, Alfred M. Carpenter, one dollar.
> 11. To my son, John Carpenter, all my plantation tools of every description. And lastly, I do constitute and appoint my two sons, Alfred M. Carpenter and John Carpenter, as my executors. —Signed Burwell Carpenter in 55 year of Independence.

From it we obtain his wife's name, his children, whom they married, the property he owned, and various other data.

He evidently was a farmer and quite well-to-do, and he passed his plantation tools on to his elder sons. It also definitely establishes the fact he was the father of Alfred Moore Carpenter.

He lived in what was then known as Ninety-Six District and probably now Anderson County.

He had ten known children: Polly, who married Labaen Massey; Elizabeth, who married Stone; Delany, who married Crawford; Sarah, who married Geer; Burwell, Jr., unmarried; Thomas; Alfred Moore, who married Catherine Browne Ledbetter; John, who married Elizabeth; Asbury, who married ; and William.

His son, John Carpenter, who died about 1875, also left a will giving names of his wife and children.

There is a deed on file in Anderson, South Carolina, in Book I page 499, for a track of land which Burwell Carpenter sold to Thomas Davis—235 acres of land on south side of Saluda River in Pendleton District for the sum of $420.00 on October 9, 1809.

Also in Book R—227 the records show that Burwell Carpenter sold to his son, Alfred M. Carpenter, on August 12, 1825, for $300.00 —90 acres of land on Neal Creek, a branch of Broadway Creek, in Pendleton District, where Alfred M. Carpenter now lives; the land adjoins William Ackers.

There are also the following deeds on record in Greenville County Court House:

From this we may assume he owned considerable property and was a man of affairs, and it is to be noted that he had land on Reedy Creek.

It will be interesting to trace this name in Charleston and Columbia, at which places certain land grants were given to him.

GRAVES OF NANCY WILSON AND FREDERICK GARRISON CARPENTER
At Big Creek Baptist Church, near Williamston, S. C.

FREDERICK GARRISON CARPENTER, I

1827–1882

Frederick Garrison Carpenter was born in the year 1827 near Westminster in Oconee County, South Carolina. His father was Alfred Moore Carpenter, and his mother was Catherine Browne Ledbetter.

He was one of seven children, five brothers and two sisters: John T. Carpenter; Thomas J. Carpenter, who did not marry; Joseph W. Carpenter, who married Julia D. Webb; Nancy Ann Carpenter, who married Robert Gadd of Charlotte; Alfred B. Carpenter, who married Julia D. Webb also; and Elizabeth P. Carpenter, who married Abbott.

He married Nancy Wilson, who was born in 1829 and died 1884.

They had seven children, five brothers and two sisters: Alfred Baxter Carpenter, who married Mamie Briggs; Thomas Summerfield Carpenter, who married Annie Wier; John Frederick Lee Carpenter, who married Sue Ellen Lewis; Walter Browne Carpenter, who married Lola Gower; Sarah Catherine Carpenter, who married R. Gourdin Sloan; and Lou Alice Carpenter, who married John T. Woodside.

He was a farmer and a physician and in later life felt the call to preach the gospel. He was originally a Presbyterian, but joined the Baptist Church and was ordained by the Baptists to preach.

He owned a farm at Piercetown about ten miles from Anderson in Anderson County, one mile from Tucker's Gin, where he raised his family.

There is a deed at Anderson County Court House, Book M, 2nd page, No. 498, showing that F. G. Carpenter sold to M. E. Deal on January 24, 1873, 84 acres of land on a branch of Six and Twenty Creek, for $250.00, adjoining land of D. H. Webb, signed by F. G. Carpenter and Nancy C. Carpenter, his wife. Witness—Kate Wilson and John Harper.

And in a deed in Book G-2, page 51, Thomas Harper sold to F. G. Carpenter 84 acres of land for $400.00 on Six and Twenty Mile Creek, with James Wilson as a witness.

I have reason to believe that the latter was his home at Piercetown, as later on, April 18, 1907, a quit claim deed was signed for this property and signed by the heirs of James Wilson, which included Wilsons, Carpenters, Harpers—et al.

Joseph W. Carpenter, his brother, who married Julia D. Webb, ran a store in Anderson, known by the name of Carpenter and Anderson. He had no children. His will was signed June 28, 1873, and is on record in Anderson County Court House.

His son, T. S. Carpenter, was the administrator of his estate, which was small.

Among the assets listed in the court house at Anderson are "a great many accounts and other debts due which have been appraised as worthless." These are evidently old doctor bills.

There is present a receipt, dated 6-27-1883, in Anderson County, for the sum of $1.38 for first installment of Carolina Gap and Chicago Railroad Taxes.

Among the inventory is a record that a medicine closet and books were sold to D. R. Jenkins for $30.00.

The funeral expense invoices are as follows:

1 Black Coat	$ 4.40
1 Black Vest	$ 1.60
1 Coffin	$15.00
1 Pr. Sock	$ .25
1 Nectie	$ .70
Total	$21.70

He died in 1882 and was buried at Big Creek Baptist Church in Williamston, South Carolina. His wife Nancy, who was born in 1829 and died in 1884, is buried beside him, and their graves are marked by marble slabs.

FREDERICK GARRISON CARPENTER, II

Frederick Garrison Carpenter, II, was born at Pelzer, S. C., on Sept. 12, 1884. He was the son of Alfred Baxter Carpenter and Mamie Cleveland Briggs. His father was in the drug business in Pelzer and later moved to Greenville where he opened up and established with his brothers the Carpenter Brothers' Drug Stores. This store is still operating under the same name after more than sixty-nine years.

He came to Greenville, when his father moved from Pelzer, to establish business in 1889, and lived here throughout the rest of his life. He attended the grade and high schools of this city and the Porter Military Academy of Charleston. He then attended and graduated from the University of Maryland at Baltimore.

Returning to Greenville, he entered the drug business of his family and was in charge of the store known as the Ottaray Drug Store, located in a small building adjoining a residence on the corner of Main and Oak Streets.

He was a member of the Second Presbyterian Church of Greenville, S. C., and also a member of Recovery Lodge A.F.A.M. No. 31 and the Cyprus Chapter and the Alpha Council of Masonic Bodies.

He married Mary Margarite Hemsley on Dec. 29, 1914, in Baltimore, Maryland, she being a native of that place. She was born on Nov. 7, 1891. She died Feb. 28, 1959. They had the following children:

Alfred Baxter Carpenter, II	b. June 6, 1916	d. June 7, 1916
Hambleton Baxter Carpenter	b. July 20, 1917	d.
Richard Hemsley Carpenter	b. Dec. 17, 1919	d.
Walter Browne Carpenter, II	b. July 20, 1921	d.
Margaret Helen Carpenter	b. Feb. 2, 1925	d.
Davis Furman Carpenter	b. Nov. 28, 1926	d.

Frederick Garrison Carpenter died at his home located at 103 Lavinia Avenue, Greenville, at 12:15 o'clock Saturday, February 10, 1934. The funeral was held from Mackey's Mortuary, and the services were conducted by Dr. Flournoy Shepperson, the Rev. Robert T. Phillips, and the Rev. Alexander R. Mitchell; and the body was buried in a family plot at Christ Church Cemetery. The following served as pallbearers: Hugue Smith, W. D. Hodges, George R. Briggs, Thomas S. Carpenter, Jr., James Gilfillin, J. E. Sirrine, H. B. Boling, and J. C. Hopkins.

JOHN FREDERICK LEE CARPENTER
Born 1865 – Died 1940

JOHN FREDERICK LEE CARPENTER

1865–1940

John Frederick Lee Carpenter was born in Anderson County, ten miles from the City of Anderson, South Carolina. The place was known as Piercetown and was on the Dunham Bridge Road, one mile from Tucker's Gin.

He was born on May 11th, 1865, while the Civil War was still in progress. For six years he sat on the slab benches of the old Field Schoolhouse, which was the extent of his formal education, with the exception of that given at home by his parents and by traveling tutors.

He absorbed a great deal from reading and from association and became an educated man in every sense of the word. He had a free and easy manner of speech and was able to talk with and interest people in all walks of life.

He came to Greenville about 1886 from Pelzer, where the family had moved, being 17 years of age.

He was the son of Frederick Garrison and Nancy Wilson Carpenter, and he had the following brothers and sisters: Sarah Catherine, who married R. Gourdin Sloan; Alfred Baxter, who married Mary Cleveland Briggs; Thomas Summerfield, who married Annie Wier; Lou Alice, who married John T. Woodside; Walter Browne, who married Lola Gower; and William Edgar, who died at the age of fourteen.

He began work as a clerk for D. T. Bacot, in what was known as the Bacot Drug Store in West End, on Pendleton Street. This store in later years was called Stringer's Drug Store. He applied himself to the study of pharmacy and in 1889 passed the state examination and became a licensed pharmacist. He spent six and a half years at this place. While working for Bacot, he lived around the corner from the store at No. 9 O'Neal Street. Later he lived at No. 224 West McBee Avenue and on River St. near Hammond. He owned and lived in a house at 415 Pettigrew St. in his later life.

In 1889 he became associated with his brother, Alfred Baxter Carpenter, in a partnership that was first known as A.B. & J.L. Carpenter. They bought out the store called the Mansion House Drug Store from Dr. George Legge, and they remained in that location for almost thirty years.

It was located on Main Street, just where the Poinsett Hotel now stands. The Mansion House being at that time the finest hotel in upper South Carolina, and their store being next to the entrance, they had the most prominent location in the city. Only in recent years has a large monogram, C. B. in color, been removed from the sidewalk in front of the former store.

"Dr. Lee," as he was affectionately known, was an expert salesman, and few there were that entered his store who did not purchase at least one item, that he did not have in mind when he came in. One of his specialties was Packer's Tar Soap, of which he sold more than any man in South Carolina.

The brothers were special representatives of Huylers Candy in this section, and when the present store was built, the word Huylers was built into the stained glass prisms above the show window. Huylers candy was at that time the only candy that any self-respecting gentlemen would offer to his sweetheart.

They were the first to sell Coca-Cola in this section, and had the first agency. And for many years were the only drug store in the state that could purchase the Coca-Cola syrup direct from Atlanta headquarters.

Carpenter Brothers came into being shortly after two other brothers moved to Greenville and became associated with them. They were Thomas Summerfield Carpenter and Walter Browne Carpenter.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. He took a great deal of interest in the Kiwanis Club. He was also a member of the State Board of Health. He enjoyed the fellowship of his trade and often attended the South Carolina Pharmacist Association.

He enjoyed playing cards and was an excellent bridge player. A peculiarity was that he refused to put his tricks in order, but kept them in a disordered pile at his right.

For over sixty years all circus tickets were sold from this store, as well as tickets for almost all other entertainments, such as lyceum, school, plays, and football games. For years Furman University kept a large metal football in the rear of the store, which was brought out before each game to advertise the fact of the game. It was placed on the sidewalk in front of the building. It finally suffered the ignominy of being rolled down Main Street and dunked in Reedy River at the hands of Clemson supporters, after Furman had beaten them in a game.

Lee Carpenter was the first of the brothers to make a permanent home in Greenville and the last to leave. He became the senior druggist of Greenville, and none was ever better loved and respected.

He married Sue Ellen Lewis and had the following children: Ellen Sloan Carpenter, October 10, 1889, and died April 21, 1906; John Lewis Carpenter, who was born September 15, 1891, and died March 22, 1936, and married Laura Myrtle Pemberton on June 1, 1916; and Nina Hunter Carpenter, who was born July 27, 1896, and married William Montgomery Sherrill on February 16, 1918. His wife, Sue Ellen Lewis, died January 11, 1921.

He died at the age of 74, at eleven forty-five A.M., on December 20, 1940, after only a two-day illness. He died at his residence at No. 415 Petigru Street. The funeral was held the following day at 3:00 P.M., with Dr. Charles H. Nabers officiating, assisted by the Rev. C. T. Squires. He was buried in Greenville at Springwood Cemetery.

Serving as pall bearers were Dr. L. L. Bates, Joe Elletson, Tom Carpenter, Richard H. Carpenter, W. T. Potter, Roger Huntington, John T. Smith, Fountain F. Beattie, Dr. R. M. Dacus, and Allen Jones.

John Lewis Carpenter was the only son and the second child of John Frederick Lee Carpenter and Sue Ellen Lewis. He was born in Seneca, South Carolina, in the home of his great aunt, Ellen Lewis, who was the second wife of Benjamin Franklin Sloan, Jr., in whose home his mother was raised. His birthday was October 15, 1891.

He attended first the early grades of Oaklawn School, later the Central School at the head of McBee Avenue, which contained both a graded and the High School of the City of Greenville, S. C. He also went to the Furman Fitting School for one year and then to Davidson College. He was a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity there. He was taken sick at the beginning of his second year at Davidson, and after a rather severe operation on his ribs, discontinued college.

He joined in his early youth the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, where his parents were members, later joining the Fourth Presbyterian Church, which being closer to his home allowed the children to walk to Sunday School and church.

The young boys of his age and school were given nicknames of animals, and his nickname was "Fish." Others of his companions were known as "Rabbit"—Stuart Rabb, "Monk"—Harold Deal, "Tad"—Harold Hodges, "Goat"—Russel Ernst, "Big Bruin"—Stuart Barr, "Little Bruin"—Harold Barr.

He was very fond of fishing and hunting and although of a very quiet nature had a keen sense of humor. He was very loyal to his friends, and they were very close to him.

After leaving school, he visited Chicago and then went to Denver, Colorado, where he was employed by a local drug store. He returned to Greenville and traveled for a short time for a cigaret company. He then went to work for Carpenter Brothers' Drug Store, under his uncle, Walter Browne Carpenter, who had charge of the Depot Store across the street from the Southern Railway Depot on Washington Street. Later he worked for Carpenter Brothers' Store on Main Street. When he left the Depot Store, his many friends and customers connected with the Southern Railways presented him with a gift of a mahogany secretary and chair, which his family still have and treasure.

John Lewis Carpenter married Laura Myrtle Pemberton on June 1, 1916. She was born on April 8, 1892, and was a native of Concord, N. C. Their children were John Lewis Carpenter, Jr., born Dec. 4, 1917, who married Mary Elizabeth Owen on Sept. 15, 1942; Ellen Pemberton Carpenter, born December 21, 1919, who married Allen Wightman Sanders, Jr., on June 14, 1941; Marydel Carpenter, born Dec. 8, 1921, who married Roscoe Bates Wilson, Jr., on Mar. 16, 1944; and William Lee Carpenter, who was born Mar. 22, 1925, and who married Ellen Adair Simkins on Sept. 8, 1951.

John Lewis Carpenter died on March 22, 1936, in Greenville, S. C., and was buried in Springwood Cemetery in that city.

LOU ALICE CARPENTER

Lou Alice Carpenter was the fourth child of Frederick Garrison Carpenter and Nancy Wilson. She had one sister and five brothers. She was born Aug. 1, 1863.

She attended the Williamston Academy at Williamston, S. C., which was later moved to Greenwood and the name changed to Lander College. After graduating there, she kept house for her brother, Thomas S. Carpenter, in Pelzer, S. C., where he was operating a drug store, and where she taught school.

She married John T. Woodside on April 25, 1893, and moved to Greenville, living on McBee Avenue between Westfield and Academy Streets. Later Mr. Woodside built on Hampton Ave., and about 1908 they built a brick home on the corner of Broadus Ave. and Pettigu-Washington St. About 1922 they built a very handsome two-story home of brick on Crescent Ave. just east of Eagle Street. They had a large lot, and it was most attractively landscaped and was kept in beautiful condition.

Mr. Woodside organized and built and was president for many years of the Woodside Cotton Mills of Greenville, Easley, and Simpsonville. He was the chief promoter of the Poinsett Hotel, for which he selected the name and bought the original furnishings and decorations. He organized with his brothers the Woodside National Bank and conceived and erected the Woodside Building, which unfortunately has had its name changed to the S. C. National Bank Building. He conceived Myrtle Beach, S. C. He bought the property, planned the city, and had the streets laid out and paved. He erected the Ocean Forest Hotel and the Country Club. All of this now stands as a monument to a great "Builder." He was an elder of the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville. He was a leader and organizer, and many projects in the city, county, and state had his best thoughts and action. During the depression of the late 1920's he lost everything he had. He gave up his home and lived in a house owned by his wife inherited in part from her brother.

In Mr. Woodside's autobiography he writes, "Strange things happen. We had been married 28 years before I knew that my wife's full name before our marriage was Lou Alice Hazeltine Carpenter. We were reading something about the great Judson missionary and his wife Hazeltine, when my wife remarked that she herself was named Hazeltine. She told me that years before she had dropped Hazeltine because it made her name so long. I said to her "Lou Alice Hazeltine Carpenter Woodside, you are liable to get overlooked at the resurrection, for all of your name may not be recorded." Still another strange thing. When I was growing up I detested red hair and the name of Alice. My wife's hair was a beautiful light sandy golden reddish color. I thought I couldn't stand either, yet I married a person with Alice for a name and red hair. But in the bargain I got one of the loveliest and best wives that ever lived."

Lou Alice Carpenter was one of the original members of the Rotary Book Club and at one time was its president. She along with Mrs. B. A. Morgan, Mrs. M. F. Ansel, Mrs. C. O. Allen, and Mrs. Charles F. Hard, originated the Woman's Hospital Board of Greenville. This organization was instrumental in the purchase of the Corbett home where the old section of the hospital now stands, and thereby started what has become today the Greenville General Hospital. Her husband, Mr. Woodside, was one of three men who bought the home and started the hospital and later sold it to the city of Greenville.

Lou Alice Carpenter was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and was connected with and actively took part in all of its work and worship. She died after an illness of several years on Aug. 5, 1945, and was buried in Springwood Cemetery. Her husband died a few months later on Jan. 4, 1946. The city, county, and state are richer because they lived.

MARGARET RUTH CARPENTER

Margaret Ruth Carpenter was born at the Carpenter home, then located at 445 Hampton Ave., on December 21, 1900. She was the daughter of Thomas Summerfield Carpenter and Margaret Ann Wier. It was on Hampton Ave. that her early childhood was spent and from here that her school life began. The family lived in this location until 1911, when her father bought a lot and erected a house at 606 East Washington Street. This remained her home until she moved to Charlotte. The house has only recently been torn down and a group of office buildings erected on the site.

Her father was one of the four brothers that established and operated the well-known drug firm of Carpenter Brothers. They owned a chain of four stores in and around the city of Greenville, S. C. The firm under the same name is still carried on by one branch of the Carpenter family, who still own and operate a drug store, after a period of seventy years.

Margaret Ruth Carpenter (better known as Ruth), has now living, one sister named Sue Wier Carpenter, now the wife of Henry B. McKoy; and one brother Thomas Summerfield Carpenter, Jr., both of whom still live in Greenville, S. C.

She started school in the Kindergarten of the old Greenville Female College, under Miss Kitty Perrin, the teacher. This was held in the basement of the main building. She attended the Central School at the head of McBee Ave., from the first through the fourth grades, then returning to the Greenville Women's College in the Primary Department through the eighth grade. She returned then to the Central High School, from which she graduated in 1918. She attended Agnes Scott College during the years 1918 and 1919 and Greenville Women's College for two additional years.

Her business life commenced with the Table Rock Laboratories in Greenville, where she remained employed for a number of years. In 1937 she moved to Charlotte. N. C., and was employed there for twenty years by the Parker-Gardner Co. of that city, who were dealers in musical instruments and supplies. She was the secretary of this concern, and at the death of Mr. C. W. Parker, one of the partners, she was left a small interest in the business. Some time after the death of the second partner she left this company for other employment.

Margaret Ruth Carpenter

As an infant she was baptized in the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, S. C., by the pastor, Dr. T. W. Sloan, and later joined this church in her youth, and remained a member until she moved to Charlotte. She is now a member of the Covenant Presbyterian Church of Charlotte, N. C. She owns a home in Charlotte at 641 Vanderbrooke Road, where she now lives.

NINA HUNTER CARPENTER

Nina Hunter Carpenter was the third child of John Lee Carpenter and Sue Ellen Lewis. She was born at Seneca, S. C., on July 27th, 1897, in the home of her great aunt, Ellen Lewis, who was the second wife of Benjamin Franklin Sloan, Jr. She was named Nina Hunter after a sister of her mother, Nina Lewis Hunter (Mrs. W. S. Hunter).

Nina Hunter Carpenter's father was one of four brothers who owned and operated the well-known firm of Carpenter Brothers' Drug Co. This name is still in existence, and the drug store is still owned and operated by this branch of the Carpenter family after a period of seventy years (1959). Dr. John Lee Carpenter was prominent in civic and social affairs of the city and was loved and admired by many friends.

Nina Hunter Carpenter went to school at old Chicora College, which was operated by the Presbyterian Church and located on a hill over-looking Reedy River and west of South Main Street just beyond Hammond. The school property ran back to Rhett Street in the rear. Here she went through graded and High School and later graduated from Chicora College.

While in Concord, N. C., visiting in the home of Myrtle Pemberton, who became her sister-in-law, she met and fell in love with William Montgomery Sherrill of that city. They were married in Greenville, S. C., at the home of her parents, who then lived on River Street, just south of Hammond Street, on Feb. 16, 1918. William Montgomery Sherrill was born on July 31, 1893. He served during the First World War as Sergeant Major in the 119th Infantry of the famed Thirtieth Division. He trained at Camp Sevier near Greenville, S. C., later going to France and Germany. He returned to his home in Concord, N. C., after the war in 1919 and was associated with the Concord Tribune as editor and manager. He died on July 4, 1947.

William Montgomery Sherrill and wife, Nina Hunter Carpenter, had one child, Ellen Lewis Sherrill, who was born on January 4, 1920. She married Charles Russell Cuthbertson on May 4, 1946. He was born on Aug. 28, 1918, and was the only child of Grover Harrison Cuthbertson and Annie Campbell, of Amber, Oklahoma. They have one child, named William Sherrill Cuthbertson, who was born on Dec. 23, 1948. Charles R. Cuthbertson and wife live at Borger, Texas, where he is a chemist in the Research Department of J. M. Huber Company.

Nina Hunter Carpenter joined the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, S. C., which was the church of her parents. She later became a member of the Central Methodist Church of Concord, N. C., with her husband. She is at present (1959) living at her home at 143 Spring Street in Concord, N. C.

SARAH CATHERINE CARPENTER

1850–1879

Sarah Catherine Carpenter was the eldest child of Frederick Garrison Carpenter and Nancy Wilson. She was born on Aug. 21, 1850, and died on Dec. 21, 1879. She was buried at Old Stone Presbyterian Church in Pickens County, S. C.

She was known by her family as "Sallie." She married Robert Gourdin Sloan, and they had one child, Annie Sloan, who was born in 1875. After the death of Sarah Catherine Sloan, Robert G. Sloan married Ella Justice and had one son, Louis Cleveland Sloan.

The daughter of Sarah Catherine Sloan, Annie Sloan, married Dr. Pinckney V. Mikell, and they had four children: Alice Sloan Mikell, who married Lawrence Owen; Jenkins Mikell, who married Sue ; John Sloan Mikell, who married Miriam Natalie Riley on Dec. 21, 1903; and Lucilla Mikell, who married George Von Kolnitz.

SUE WIER CARPENTER

Sue Wier Carpenter was the eldest child and daughter of Thomas Summerfield Carpenter and Margaret Ann Wier. She was born at the family home, then located on the west side of Townes Street just below Elford Street, on December 24, 1891. She was named after her maternal grandmother, Susan Majors Benson, who married John Alexander Wier.

Her father was one of the four brothers that established and operated the Carpenter Brothers' Drug Stores of Greenville, S. C., which is still carried on by a branch of this family after a period of nearly seventy years. The family home was moved to 321 Hampton Avenue, where Sue Wier Carpenter spent her childhood surrounded by friends of the neighborhood. It was in December 1911 that Mr. Carpenter sold this house and moved into a new home that he had erected at 606 East Washington Street. There she lived until she married in 1924.

Sue Wier Carpenter went first to school at what was later called Greenville High School and then called the Central School located on Westfield Street at the head of McBee Ave. She left here after the ninth year and attended the Greenville Female College on College Street, which later became the Greenville Women's College of Furman University. She graduated from the Greenville Women's College with a Bachelor of Letters Degree in June, 1911.

For several years she taught a graded school at Woodside Cotton Mills, for which she received the sum of $40.00 a month. She also kept the books for Carpenter Brothers' main store on Main and Court Streets.

She was baptised by the Rev. John M. Rose at the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville on April 3, 1892, early aligning herself with the Presbyterian Church, with which she has kept a constant and active interest ever since. She joined this church under the Rev. T. M. McConnell as pastor in 1903 and has been happy to see her children also join in the Christian faith and worship, and her grandchildren offered there to the Lord to be baptized.

Sue Wier Carpenter was married at her home at 606 East Washington Street at ten o'clock in the morning of June 25, 1924, to Henry Bacon McKoy. The Rev. J. B. Green, of Columbia Seminary, officiated. He was temporarily preaching at the Fourth

Presbyterian Church, and was asked because of the absence of Dr. Thomas W. Sloan, the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The "Honeymoon" was spent at Highlands, N. C.

They first rented a house at 112 Capers Street, where they lived for four years, moving to 308 McIver Street in April, 1928, which home was built and owned by them. There she has lived for the past thirty years, raised two girls, has seen them happily married, and delights when the bell rings and the call for Nanna and Pop-pop is made by the grandchildren. Each Sunday all the children and grandchildren gather at the family table for dinner, where, holding hands, the food is blessed and thanks given to God for His many favors, among which a happy family is not the least.

To this union two children were born: Anne Wier McKoy, born June 18, 1925, who married Dewey Wheeler Parks, Jr., on June 8, 1946; they have two children, Dewey McKoy Parks, born July 27, 1950, and William Berry Parks, born Jan. 8, 1955. Katherine Bacon McKoy was born April 27, 1928, and married Robert Allen Ehling on Oct. 9, 1954; they have two children, Sue Carpenter Ehling, born Mar. 5, 1956, and Rebecca Carol Ehling, born Jan. 26, 1959.

Her husband, Henry Bacon McKoy, was born and raised in Wilmington, N. C., and came to Greenville during the First World War and was stationed at Camp Sevier. They met while he was a soldier there. After the war he returned from Europe to Greenville and took employment with a firm of General Contractors, Jamison & Morris. In 1923 he was taken as a partner in the firm known as Morris and McKoy. He later bought out Mr. Morris and operated under the name of Henry B. McKoy Co., Contractors. In 1946 he took Howard C. Helgerson as a partner, and the firm became known as McKoy-Helgerson Co. He retired in January, 1951. These firms built many structures, not only in Greenville but all over the Southern States.

Sue Wier McKoy inherited a calm, even disposition from both her Carpenter and Wier forebears. Her motto and Bible verse was Romans 12:28: "If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men." This she was able to accomplish to the last degree. Her mother-in-law, Katherine Bacon McKoy, wrote on one occasion regarding her, "There is not a sign of jealousy or selfishness in her whole being." Her soft answer has often turned away wrath. She is loved by her family and by many friends, who can testify that she has never known an enemy.

THOMAS SUMMERFIELD CARPENTER, JR.

Thomas Summerfield Carpenter was the only son and the fifth child of Thomas Summerfield Carpenter and Margaret Ann Wier. He was born at the Carpenter home at 445 Hampton Ave. on August 14, 1905, and lived there until he was six years old, when his father bought a lot and had a house built at 606 East Washington Street, in the year 1911. It was here he spent his boyhood and young manhood.

His father was one of the four brothers that established and operated the well-known drug firm of Carpenter Brothers. They owned a chain of four stores in and around the city of Greenville, S. C. The firm under the same name is still carried on by one branch of the Carpenter family who own and operate a drug store after a period of seventy years. His mother was the daughter of John Alexander Wier and Susan Majors Benson of Abbeville, S. C.

Thomas Summerfield Carpenter, Jr., attended the Park Grammar School and graduated from the Greenville High School in 1923. In the fall of that year he entered as a Freshman at Presbyterian College in Clinton, S. C., where he graduated in 1927.

He was first employed by the Woodside Mill in the fall of 1927 and was associated with Mr. Thomas J. Ligon, Sr., in the sampling, weighing, and classifying of cotton to be used by the mill. For a few months he operated the Ottaray Drug Store. He went to Myrtle Beach in 1930 and worked in a hotel there for his uncle, Mr. John T. Woodside, who owned, conceived, laid out, and built Myrtle Beach, S. C. He returned to Greenville after a short time and again was employed by the Woodside Mills in the office where he has remained until the present time.

Thomas Summerfield Carpenter was baptised by Dr. Thomas Wylie Sloan of the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, S. C. He later joined this church where his family were members, and has been a faithful member and worker there with his wife and children ever since. He has also served this church as a deacon.

On November 9, 1929, he married Miriam Alice Britt of McCormick, S. C. She was the daughter of Thomas J. Britt and Mattie Kate Rambo; and she was born on November 6, 1909, at McCormick, S. C. Miriam Alice Carpenter attended Greenville Women's College of Furman University and graduated in 1929. It was here that she met and became acquainted with "Tom," and that acquaintance led to their marriage.

They have two children, Miriam Alice Carpenter, who was born on November 22, 1934, and Nancy Wier Carpenter, who was born on April 26, 1938. Miriam Alice Carpenter went to college for one year at Mary Baldwin College and one year at Queens College in Charlotte. Her junior and senior work was taken at the University of Georgia, where she majored in chemistry. She graduated at the University of Georgia in 1956. She was employed by the General Electric Company in Rome, Georgia, for one year and has been associated with the Union Bleachery in the Chemical Department in Greenville, S. C., since.

Nancy Wier Carpenter attended Converse College in Spartanburg during her freshman and sophomore years and is at present at the University of Georgia, where she is majoring in Art. She is quite talented in portrait painting.

Thomas Summerfied Carpenter, Sr.,

THOMAS SUMMERFIELD CARPENTER, SR.

1860–1927

Thomas Summerfield Carpenter was born on May 25, 1860, at Piercetown, Anderson County, South Carolina. His father was Frederick Garrison Carpenter and his mother, Nancy Wilson.

He was one of seven children, having four brothers and two sisters. He was born on a typical Anderson County farm of those days, and lived the usual farm life of a boy. His father was first a physician and later a Baptist Minister, and, it would be assumed from events, not a very successful farmer, as all of his children left the farm and none followed it as an avocation.

Education at that time in the country was the responsibility of the father, the mother, or an older child, who passed along such knowledge as he had. At the beginning of the Civil War, conditions of his childhood and young manhood were the most difficult of any period the State of South Carolina has known. He in later years told of a young man living in his home, evidently as a tutor, and instructing him how to read and how to write.

About his other education, little is known. But from his diction, his use of words, his letters and handwriting, one can assume that he was an educated man. I saw, some years ago, a book containing several theses and papers, written in his handwriting, and submitted to a group of Greenville, South Carolina men, who were organized to disseminate knowledge and information. The papers he wrote, to deliver to this group, showed that he was informed and thoughtful.

He moved to Williamston with the family, evidently before his father's death, which occurred in 1882. Thomas S. Carpenter acted as executor of his father's estate and was granted letters of administration July 14, 1882, by the Judge of Probate in Anderson County. There are on file at the court house several letters from him and the final accounting of the estate, which was small.

He first married Lura Todd, the daughter of Sarah Ann Elizabeth Carpenter and A. N. Todd, who was his second cousin. They were married in the year 1887, and she died shortly afterward of typhoid fever on September 25, 1888, and was buried at Silverbrook Cemetery in Anderson, South Carolina. Her mother lived in Anderson and had a son, Newton Todd, who lived in Lenoir, North Carolina; the mother used to stop over in Greenville and visit at the Carpenter home about once a year. Sue Carpenter McKoy remembers her as being very old and very small.

He then married Annie Wier, the daughter of John Alexander Wier and Susan Benson, originally of Abbeville but then living in Greenville, South Carolina, on June 4, 1890.

They had the following children: Sue Wier, born December 24, 1891, who married Henry B. McKoy June 25, 1924; Loulie, born May 22, 1894, died May 6, 1896; Kathleen, born January 8, 1898, died July 27, 1900; Margaret Ruth Carpenter, born December 21, 1900; Thomas Summerfield Carpenter, Jr. born August 14, 1905, who married Miriam Alice Britt on November 9, 1929.

After his marriage he continued to live in Pelzer, South Carolina, where he operated a drug store. He moved to Greenville about September, 1891, and became associated with his brothers, Alfred Baxter and John Lee Carpenter, in the drug business.

At first, after his father's death, he lived on the farm, for which evidently he had no taste and little talent. He used to tell his daughter, Ruth, that he hardly made enough to eat. His sister Lou Alice Carpenter, who later married John T. Woodside, kept house for him at Pelzer after his first wife died.

His brothers were Alfred Baxter, born July 20, 1857, married Mamie Cleveland Briggs, February 22, 1882, John Frederick Lee Carpenter, born May 11, 1865, married Sue Ellen Lewis; Walter Browne Carpenter, born November 7, 1868, married Lola Gower, and William Edgar Carpenter, born 1871, died at fourteen years of age.

Upon first moving to Greenville, he lived on the west side of Townes Street, about a block below College, in a one-story frame house, on a lot ten feet above the street, reached by steps directly from the sidewalk. It was here that his first born, Sue Wier Carpenter, came into this world.

He then moved to a one-story house located at No. 320 on North side of Hampton Avenue, where he lived for seven years before moving across the street to a one-story house located at No. 323 on the South side of Hampton Avenue. He added a second story to the house two years later. He owned this home, and all the other children were born there.

He purchased a lot at 606 East Washington Street, in 1911 and erected a two-story brick house on it. The plans were drawn by the Cunningham Brothers; and his brother, Walter, erected almost an identical house from the same plans on the same street two blocks below him. He lived in this house until his death.

He was married in Greenville at the home of his wife's brother, John Benson Wier, at 627 North Main Street, on June 4, 1890, in a house now occupied by A. E. Gilfillin. The services were performed by Rev. J. M. Rose, the pastor of First Presbyterian Church. He spent the first night at his wife's home, and left the next day by train for his home in Pelzer.

As a young man of 25 years he went to Florida with his younger brother, William Edgar, looking for work, and while there his brother of fourteen years contracted typhoid fever and died in Florida.

He was a big man, well over six feet two inches tall, with broad but drooping shoulders. He wore a heavy mustache, and he wore a dark blue or black suit. He had rather large feet and in later life walked rather slowly and deliberately. He was mild and even tempered, and I have never seen him excited or heard him raise his voice, except in laughter.

He left for work at 8:30 each morning, walking both ways. He came home for dinner about three, and seldom returned home at night before eleven, when he ate his supper, which in later years consisted of a quart of milk and corn flakes.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, where his children were all baptized and later became members. He never took a vacation, but was persuaded once or twice to go up to the mountains at Wildwood for a short period with his family. He used to say the only vacation he had was when he went to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, to have his appendix removed.

Carpenter Brothers first opened their Drug Store in the old Mansion House in 1889, which was then the finest and the biggest building in Greenville. It was located where the Poinsett Hotel now is and was torn down for the new hotel's erection. They stayed at this location until 1925, when they moved across the street to their present location. They operated the largest drug store in this vicinity, and later opened four other stores: one at the Depot on Washington Street, which was operated by Walter Carpenter; another at Brandon; and later one at 230 North Main Street, known as the Ottaray Drug Store which was operated by Fred Carpenter, the son of Alfred Baxter Carpenter; and one at Woodside Mill.

In addition to the retail business they were wholesale druggists, being the largest buyers in this vicinity, and sold to smaller drug stores of the county.

The four brothers operated their business as a partnership, and they worked together in perfect harmony. Alfred Baxter Carpenter was the business man of the partnership. He looked after such things as buying and selling of property. The location of stores and his farsightedness in this regard made it easier for the other brothers in later years. Lee Carpenter was the front man and the buyer. He was genial and pleasant to all and had many friends. Tom Carpenter kept the books and filled prescriptions, as did all the brothers. Many bills were only sent out once a year, as people did not want them any oftener.

Their store was the rendezvous of all doctors and the headquarters of many groups that met there daily for a smoke or a Coca-Cola. The store being near the court house, the lawyers gathered there for two generations; and many were the political arguments unsettled around their counters.

For forty years all circus tickets were sold in the back of this store, and the Carpenter family were well supplied with passes. All other lyceum tickets and football tickets were distributed from this well known place.

The brothers kept books as to accounts payable and receivable, but among themselves they kept no account. Each lived out of the store, as he saw fit, and as his needs required. If one took more than others, it was all right with the rest. As no records were kept of withdrawals, no one ever knew how much the other got. It was common property and remained so until three of the brothers had died and only one was left. At that time a division of the property was made. I do not believe that there was another such instance in the state of such an arrangement and of the existence of such complete harmony, which showed the nature of the Carpenter Brothers—their amiability, their friendliness, their understanding, their brotherliness. (Oh, how good and how pleasant it is, for brethren to dwell together in unity.)

Thomas S. Carpenter was taken sick in June, 1926, and suffered a stroke which rendered him unable to walk or to express himself as he wished. He lived until the following year, when he died on September 18, 1927, at 5:00 A.M., and was buried at Springwood Cemetery in Greenville, South Carolina.

Funeral services were held at the home. The Rev. E. A. Dillard, Assistant Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and Dr. George W. Quick, performed the services.

The active pall bearers were A. G. Furman, A. H. Wells, Russel A. Kee, R. N. Ward, H. W. Estes and Roger Huntington.

The honorary escort included Henry Briggs, Robert Lockerbie, Dr. Davis Furman, Oscar K. Mauldin, John A. Russell, A. G. Gower, B. A. Morgan, Dr. J. P. Carlisle, George W. Ebaugh, W. L. Gassoway, R. I. Woodside, and Luther Stringer.

WALTER BROWNE CARPENTER

Walter Browne Carpenter was the sixth child of Frederick Garrison Carpenter and Nancy Wilson. He was born in Anderson County near Williamston, S. C., on November 7, 1868.

He received his early education in the home and from private tutors who traveled around and settled in any neighborhood where a sufficient number of students could be assembled to warrant their staying. As his brothers were in the drug business, he went to Baltimore and completed a course in Pharmacy at the Maryland College of Pharmacy.

In his early twenties he moved to Greenville, S. C., and became associated with the famous firm of Carpenter Brothers Drug Stores, which operated a group of stores in and around the city of Greenville. When the Carpenter Brothers Depot Store was built and opened, he became its manager and remained at this location until his death in 1928. This store was directly across the street from the Southern Railway Depot near the end of West Washington Street.

Walter Browne Carpenter married Lola Elise Gower on October 14, 1896. She was born on May 22, 1869, and she died Oct. 15, 1914. They had no children. They took a niece, Jane Gower, into their home as a child, and she remained there until his death. After her marriage to Roger Huntington, they continued to live with and keep house for Dr. Carpenter, who lost his wife in 1914. Dr. Carpenter built and owned the two-story brick house where he lived at 406 East Washington Street.

Walter Browne Carpenter died in Greenville on Feb. 11th, 1928, in his 59th year. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and Dr. T. W. Sloan conducted his funeral service at his home at 11:00 A.M. Feb. 12, 1928. His body was interred in Christ Church Cemetery, beside his wife. The active pallbearers were A. H. Wells, H. L. Hagerman, R. H. Chapman, Dr. C. O. Bates, Dr. W. L. Bates, Lamar Martin, W. T. Potter and Norman Whisnant.

A tribute to Dr. Walter Browne Carpenter was published in the Greenville News several days after his death, which reads in part as follows:

> He was a Williamston product and enjoyed the esteem of all of us. His life was quiet and unobtrusive. His business activities were guided by righteousness. His standards of ethics were lofty, his vision was broad, his unselfishness was proverbial. In his work he was absolutely sincere. Fortunate indeed was the doctor who had him for a colleague in the healing art, because a prescription to him was a sacred trust, and its correct compounding was a moral obligation. Who can describe the strength and beauty of his friendship or measure the sweet influence of his life. Nothing of praise can help him now, but it is wise and fitting that we pause and take stock of the elements that made up his character, and strive as best we may to emulate so worthy an example. Signed: Frank Lander M.D., Williamston.

SUSAN MAJORS

Susan Majors was born July 29th, 1761. I have been told that she originally came from Virginia, but have found no facts to bear this report out. We only know that she was married and had one child when they first moved to South Carolina.

We do know that her husband, David Sloan, was a captain in the Revolutionary War, and that he served for a time in and around Wilmington, N. C. David Sloan lived for a time in Mecklenburg County in the western part of North Carolina, and it is therefore assumed that this pair married in that state, as after the war they moved to South Carolina with their first born only a few months old. The Revolutionary War had been over for at least one year before they came to Pendleton District.

Susan and David Sloan were among the first settlers of this section, and they evidently found the country to their liking. They built a log cabin about a mile and a half from the Seneca River, at a point that was in later years to become known as Sloan's Ferry. There she raised her large family of twelve children, ten of whom were still living when her husband died. David had, through his industry and intelligence, built up a rather large estate for that time and place. In his will he gave his wife, Susan, the choice of two plantations. She chose to stay on in her first home, the log cabin, giving to her children the more pretentious and extensive homes and mansions. Let it be noted here that the word plantation was at that time the common word for the land that a man lived on, and the word mansion meant only the house in which he lived. In the old deeds and wills of this section, the words plantation and mansion had no pretentious meanings.

Susan Sloan was left in the will the farm tools and a goodly number of slaves to attend to the plantation. She evidently was an excellent manager and had assisted her husband during his life. She was thoroughly capable of carrying on his affairs after his death.

Susan Sloan was a member of the Roberts Presbyterian Church, which she joined sometime before the year 1800. The Roberts Church was built after the War, in the year 1789, and the Rev. John Simpson was its first pastor; it was during his pastorate that she became a member. He remained its pastor until his death in 1808. The church was located near the junction of the Seneca and the Tugaloo Rivers, nine miles southeast of Anderson, S. C. The church was ten or more miles from her home, and it can hardly be thought possible that she could attend regularly, over the rivers and roads of that time.

Fortunately oil paintings of both David and Susan Sloan were made during their lives and have been preserved until the present time (1959), and are now in the possession of Mrs. Mamie Ligon, the mother of Mrs. L. O. Hammett, of Anderson, S. C. The painting of Susan Sloan shows a large pleasant face framed with a white bonnet that is tied under the chin. A small amount of dark brown hair shows under the edge of the bonnet. The eyes are dark and penetrating, and the mouth is firm. It shows an informed and intelligent and pleasing person. She possibly was about fifty years of age when the painting was made.

A description of the home of Susan Sloan, as I found it during two visits which I made in 1934, will be found in the sketch of David Sloan.

Susan Majors Sloan and David Sloan had the following children, all of whom except the first were probably born in their first home: William Sloan No. 1, born 1786, died Nov. 9, 1849; David Sloan, Jr. and Susan Sloan, twins, born May 19, 1787; David Sloan, Jr., died Oct. 29, 1831; Elizabeth Sloan, born April 16, 1788, died Nov. 9, 1849; Mary Sloan, born March 5, 1791, died March 9, 1810; Rebecca Sloan, born 1794 and died 1867; Thomas Majors Sloan, born May 12, 1789 and died Sept. 8, 1849; Nancy Sloan, born (?) and died September, 1863; Catherine Sloan, born December 6, 1802, died October, 1868; William Sloan No. 2, born after 1800 and died (?); James Madison Sloan, born after 1800 and died (?).

Susan Majors Sloan died September 5, 1853 at the age of ninety-two, and it has been said that her death resulted from injuries received when she fell from a horse. She was buried beside her husband in the family graveyard, which was only a few hundred feet from her home. The graveyard was restored some years ago and a stone wall erected around it, the yard being paved with concrete between the gravestones in an effort to prevent the growth of trees and underbrush. Her grave is covered with a large marble slab which is marked, "Susan Sloan wife of David Sloan. Born July 20, 1761. Died Sept. 5, 1853. She was the mother of twelve children, only five of whom survived her. At her death she had 107 grandchildren and 273 great grandchildren—a total of 413 descendants, 344 of whom were then living. To them and future generations she left an example of industry, energy, piety, and Christian spirit worthy of imitation."

The following obituary notice, which appeared in the newspaper at her death, gives this interesting account:—

> Departed from this life on Tuesday the 5th, of September 1853, at her residence on Seneca River, Mrs. Susan Majors Sloan, in the 92nd year of her age, relict of Capt. David Sloan Sr., who died October 9th, 1826, age 73 years. Sixty-seven years ago when the country was a wilderness and inhabited by the Red Men, Captain Sloan with his wife and their twin children, their first born (Capt. David Sloan Jr., who died on the 29th of October 1834, at the age of 47 years and Mrs. Susan Bruce who still survives) pitched his tent on the cane brakes of the western bank of the Seneca River. For years they encountered and endured all the privations and dangers of a border life; and by industry, energy and enterprise, the many obstacles incident to the settlement of a new country were overcome, and the means of comfort and ease gathered around them. After the death of her husband Mrs. Sloan continued to occupy the homestead and in the management of her farm and domestic matters exhibited skill truly remarkable. More than half a century ago she became a member of the Presbyterian Church, at Roberts, in Anderson District, under the administrations of the Rev. Mr. Simpson, and in probability she was the last of that generation to be called to the spirit land. She was the mother of twelve children, only five of which survive her, 107 grandchildren, 273 great grandchildren, 413 descendents, of whom 344 are now living. To them she left a sample of industry, energy, piety and Christian spirit, worthy all of imitation. September, 1853.

Catherine Sloan
Wife of John Prince Benson
Born 1802 – Died 1868

CATHERINE SLOAN

1802–1868

Catherine Sloan was the last and twelfth child of David Sloan and his wife Susan Majors. She was born on December 6, 1802, in Anderson County, probably at the old Homestead located on Seneca River ten miles west of Anderson Court House. This was the house that her father had built out of logs on the farm that he carved out of a wilderness, a farm where he plowed often with a gun at the end of the row to protect his home and family from the Indians.

Although the life this family lived was rough and rugged, there is much evidence that the family was refined and cultured, though under great difficulty.

When she was seventeen years old she married John Prince Benson on December 21, 1819, and moved to Anderson Court House shortly thereafter. She was known as Kitty Sloan before her marriage, and the name Kitty stuck with her friends until her death.

Her husband, John Prince Benson, built and operated the Benson House, a noted hostelry of Anderson, S. C., which stood on the Main Square. Benson Street, south of this square, obtained its name from this family and this hotel.

John Prince Benson and his wife bought and lived in a house erected by Mr. Van Lawhorn. Mrs. Kitty Benson was a great lover of flowers and maintained a large and extensive garden at each end of the house. Many people at that time opened their homes to boarders; and with her experience of assisting her husband in the operation of the Benson House, she opened her home to others. During the Confederate War suitable accommodations were particularly scarce. A daughter of Catherine Sloan Benson named Mary first married a Sloan and then a Sadler, and she became owner of the house and lived there for many years with her sons Ed Sloan and John Sadler.

To this Catherine Sloan and John Pince Benson were born the following children: Rebecca Sloan Benson, born May 21, 1823; Martha Evaline Benson, born February 6, 1826; David Sloan Benson, born January 28, 1829; Susan Majors Benson, born January 14, 1832; Thomas Prue Benson, born January 10, 1835; Nancy Taylor Benson, born August 6, 1837; Mary Prince Benson, born

February 2, 1840; and Sarah Elizabeth Benson, born November 22, 1842. All of these children except Sarah Elizabeth married into prominent South Carolina families, and all had children except Rebecca Sloan Benson.

From a letter written by John Prince Benson to his wife, Catherine, we find on June 30, 1849, that she was staying at or near Six Mile, Pickens District, S. C., having gone there to improve her health. She stayed at a house that he owned near a mill that he opened and operated to grind corn and also to saw lumber. From this letter we can gather that she was fully capable of handling her husband's affairs, and that a very close and affectionate relationship was shared by this couple.

Her husband was born January 8, 1793, and died August 12, 1855. Catherine Sloan Benson died on Oct. 24, 1868, and is buried in the First Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Anderson, S. C., beside the grave of her husband. Both of the graves are marked and covered with a granite slab inscribed with their births and deaths.

DAVID SLOAN

1753–1826

David Sloan was born in the year 1753, twenty years before the Revolutionary War. He was the forefather of the Sloan family of upper South Carolina. He emigrated to this country from his home in County Down in Ireland in 1772 or 1773, being a young man of about twenty years. We are told that he first settled in Mecklenburg County in the western part of North Carolina. He served as a Captain of a company of North Carolina troops during the Revolutionary War. It would be reasonable to assume that he was a man of education and some means, to be able to have the position of captain at the age of around twenty-five years. There are records in the North Carolina Historical Commission Library that show that he made claim for three small amounts as expense, in Wilmington, N. C., on October 19th, 1782. One was for 5 shillings 9 pence and six farthings.

At the end of the war he refused a bounty, stating that he had fought for his country and not for money.

He married Susan Majors and moved to Pendleton District, South Carolina, in 1786, he being at that time about thirty-three years old. He obtained a grant of land containing fifteen hundred acres, from the state of South Carolina, in 1791, shortly after the expulsion of the Cherokee Indians from that section. He settled on the west bank of the Seneca River at a point subsequently known as "Sloan's Ferry." His home was well back from the river on a slight elevation, about three quarters of a mile east of Dobbins Bridge Road and about eleven miles from Anderson Court House.

At this point he built a log house, probably in the year 1794, as a stone in one chimney of the old home bore this date. This house remained his home and his castle until his death thirty years afterwards, and here his wife continued to live until her death in 1853.

This home was originally a simple four-sided cabin, built of logs hewn on the site. It was 18 ft. by 21 ft. Fairly soon an addition was built adding fifteen feet to its length, and after that numerous rooms and sheds were added as the family increased. I was told by Mrs. Katherine Sloan Wynne, nee Wier, (1852-1942) that she had often visited in this home, and that it was told that David Sloan would add a room to his dwelling each time a child was born.

David Sloan
Born 1753 – Died 1826

I visited the old David Sloan home May 10, 1934, in company with Mrs. Anne Wier Carpenter and Mrs. Kate Wier Wynne, who were great granddaughters of David. Mrs. Kate Wier Wynne had talked to me so many times about the old home and had told me so many stories of the place that I had expected to find a stately-columned Southern mansion. But upon examination of what remained of the old house it turned out to be a four-room cabin in exceedingly poor repair. David Sloan had preferred to live here, and he gave to his children the several beautiful homes that he acquired in later life.

I found that the house consisted of four rooms and a shed. It was built of hewn logs that had in later years been weather-boarded on three sides. Near the front door there had been cut through the logs a hole which was six inches wide and eight inches high. It had a heavy board cover that slid into place. I was told that it was so fashioned that food and other items could be passed from the inside to Indians and others who might approach when it was dangerous to risk the opening of a main door to strangers. It was so placed that it covered the approach to the house from that direction, and a rifle could be sighted and fired through it.

There was a huge chimney between the two main rooms, of which I took careful measurements. There was a large open fireplace in the living room, and there were two other fireplaces besides an oven in the kitchen. This chimney was 12 ft. by 5 ft., over all. The floor of the rooms was of heavy wide pine boards, well worn but all still intact. I took photographs of the exterior of this home, with three generations of the Sloan descendants standing near by. I found the main entrance to the house wide open with the door gone; the rear door was off the hinges, lying on the ground. The handwrought iron latch was still attached to it. This I salvaged and have it marked and labeled among my treasures. I also took from the chimney two of the brick, which had been made and burned locally.

David Sloan had one child when he came to South Carolina. All of the others were born in this house. His children were: William Sloan No. 1; born 1786, died November 9, 1804; David Sloan Jr., and Susan Sloan, twins, born May 19, 1787; David Sloan Jr., died October 29, 1831; Elizabeth Sloan, born April 16, 1788, died November 9, 1849; Mary Sloan, born March 5, 1791, died March 9, 1810; Rebecca Sloan, born 1794, died 1843; Benjamine Franklin Sloan, born 1796, died 1867; Thomas Majors Sloan, born May 12, 1799, died September 8, 1849; Nancy Sloan, born (?), died September, 1863; Catherine Sloan, born December 6, 1802, died October, 1868; William Sloan No. 2, born after 1800, died (?); James Madison Sloan, born after 1800, died (?).

David and Susan Sloan were among the first settlers of Fork Township, which lies between the Tugaloo and Seneca Rivers. Fork Township boundaries form an almost equilateral triangle about eleven miles in length, with Anderson at its apex lying in the fork of the rivers. The name of the section was inevitable and antedated the subdivision of the county into townships by many years.

David Sloan died on October 9, 1826, and left ten living children. He was buried on the plantation a few hundred feet from the house. Here also are buried his wife, Susan Majors; his son-in-law, Jesse Stribling, who died November 30, 1841; and his daughter, Elizabeth Stribling, who died on November 9, 1849. There is also buried here an infant daughter of David and Nancy Trimmier Sloan. All of these graves are marked with marble slabs and head stones. The two Stribling graves are built up above the ground, and the masonry work and marble slab are shaped like a coffin, as was the custom sometimes in that day.

In 1928 Mr. M. S. Stribling and Mr. Thomas M. Sloan went to the site and found the grave yard in deplorable condition, with many stones broken and overturned. They, with assistance from other descendants, had the stones repaired and replaced; and all that were found were marked. They stated, "This space has been enclosed by a rock wall neatly cemented. The wall was three feet high and one foot thick. The area between the slabs was paved with concrete to help prevent the weeds and trees from again growing in the enclosure. Although this grave yard was said to have been a large one at one time, these were the only markers to be found in 1928."

In May, 1953, I visited the site of the old Sloan home again, in company with my wife, Mrs. Sue Wier McKoy, and my daughters, Mrs. Anne Wier Parks and Katherine Bacon McKoy; and I found all signs of the old house gone. Even the chimney was down, and most of the bricks had been carted away. The grave yard and the stones were still intact, although a few small trees were already growing between cracks in the concrete paving.

David Sloan's will is recorded in Anderson County, S. C., Court House. Keeping in mind the date that it was written, the condition of the country, and the opportunities offered this man, you will feel as I do that this will is a remarkable document of a very remarkable man. Therefore you will find it given in its entirety.

After reading and studying the will of David Sloan, I was left with the following impressions of the man. He was evidently most industrious, having settled in a primeval country on the very edge of civilization of that day, which was still inhabited by Indians. The maintaining of life was a slow and arduous task. His having been able to accumulate considerable wealth, as evidenced by his will, could only have been accomplished by a wise, industrious, and a frugal man.

Besides the plantations, the lands, slaves, and property that he had previously given to his children, his will mentions 9,245 acres of land, 92 negro slaves, $9,314.00 in cash, and notes for other money.

That he was an intelligent man is also witnessed by the wording of his will, which, though evidently drawn by an attorney, showed a great deal of the man, his works, and his thoughts.

He must have kept an accurate record of his transactions. He knew and remembered his lands and their boundaries, his personal property, and his slaves.

He was a religious man, his will stating his thoughts, "In the beginning God." He resigns his soul to God, who gave it, and only his body to the earth.

He was a fair man, and he tried to divide his estate among his children and his wife so that each should have a proportionate part. He attempted to take into account that during his life he had given more to one child than another, and to equalize it then.

He was an affectionate and loving husband and father, recognizing his duty to them, and evidently that affection was returned.

He was a patriotic man, having served his adopted country during the war and refusing afterwards to accept a bounty. He was a frugal man, for with all that wealth, he still chose to live in his original log cabin until his death, giving to his children the handsome plantations that he had later acquired.

Above and beyond his earthly possessions this man David Sloan left to his (literally) thousands of descendants, a background of strength, stamina, industry, and right living that has marked his offspring to this very day.

The inscriptions on the Graves found in the old Sloan Cemetery are as follows:

Susan Majors, wife of David Sloan, born July 29, 1761. Died September 5th, 1853.

Sacred to the Memory of David Sloan, who died on the 9th day of October, 1826, in the 73rd year of his age.

Unknown: not marked.

Sacred to the memory of Jesse Stribling, born 9th of April, 1775, and departed this life 30th November, 1841.

Sacred to the memory of Nancy Trimmier Sloan who was born April 5th, 1819, and died November 9th, 1820. Age 1 year 7 months and 4 days.

Sacred to the memory of Elizabeth Stribling, who was born the 16th of April 1785, and departed this life 9th, November, 1849.

Mrs. Kate Wier Wynne (Aunt Kate) used to tell that, when a child, she visited her grandmother, Catherine Sloan, who was living in the old Sloan Homestead at that time.

WILL OF DAVID SLOAN

> In the name of God, amen, I David Sloan, of Pendleton District, in the State of South Carolina, planter, being weak in body, and afflicted with disease, being of perfect sound mind and memory, and being mindful of my mortality: Do this twenty-ninth day of October in the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and twenty-one, make and publish this my last will and testament in manner following:
> First: I resign my Soul into the hands of the Almighty God who gave it; and my body I commit to the earth, to be buried at the discretion of my Executrix, at the burial ground on the plantation where I now live.
> Item 2: I give and devise to my beloved and affectionate wife, the house we now live in, or if she should prefer it, the house wherein Jesse Stribling lately lived, to be repaired and fixed as she may direct, during her natural life: and I also give and bequeath to her, one third part of the fifty-four negroes now in my possession on the plantation, and which are not herein otherwise disposed of, and the negroes to be to her and to her heirs and assigns forever, but if not disposed of by her at her death to be equally divided amongst my ten children or the surviving of them or their representatives. I also give and bequeath to my said beloved and affectionate wife Susannah all my household furniture to be disposed of at her pleasure. And one third of the stock and farming utensils on the farm I now live on to be disposed of in like manner, if she should remove to the house lately occupied by Jesse Stribling, and as much of this and said plantation as she may wish for cultivation.

Item 3: I give and devise to my eldest son David Sloan, all that plantation and tract of land whereon he now lives on the North side of Cane Creek, containing about 950 acres; also 50 acres on the South side of Cane Creek, to include his mill and pond and etc., but he is to grind free of Toll all grain brought to his mill for Jesse Stribling while his mill stands: I also give and bequeath to my said son David Sloan, all the negroes, chattels and effects which I have heretofore put in his possession. To have and to hold for him and his heirs and assigns forever.

Item 4: I give and devise to Jesse Stribling and to Elizabeth his wife, my eldest daughter, all that plantation whereon he now lives on the South side of Cane Creek, containing about 950 acres (except the mill and fifty acres devised to my son David Sloan above). I also give and bequeath to the said Jesse Stribling and Elizabeth all the negroes and personal property that I have heretofore put into their possession, to Have and to Hold—to them and their assigns and heirs forever.

Item 5: I give and devise to my son David Sloan and Jesse Stribling all those two tracts of land adjoining to each other on the waters of Cane Creek and Richland containing 450 acres, originally granted Self and Talley, to Have and To Hold to them and their heirs and assigns forever.

Item 6: I give and devise to Robert Bruce and my daughter Susannah Bruce, his wife, all that plantation or several tracts of land being adjoining to each other and whereon they now live on Tugaloo River and Gum Log Creek in Franklin County in the State of Georgia containing 1,250 acres. I also give and bequeath to the said Robert and Susannah Bruce all the negroes and personal property which I have heretofore given to them and put into their possession to Have and To Hold to the said Robert and Susannah Bruce and to their heirs and assigns forever.

Item 7: I give and devise to my son Benjamin Franklin Sloan all that plantation composed of five tracts of land lying adjoining to each other on Tugaloo River and Panes Creek in Franklin County, Georgia, containing 1,643 acres more or less. And I also give and bequeath to the said Benjamin F. Sloan all those thirteen negroes now in his possession and which he now hath, to Have and to Hold to him and his heirs and assigns forever.

Item 8: I give and devise to my son Thomas M. Sloan all that plantation which I purchased from Jos. Taylor on Keowee or Seneca River about five miles from Pendleton, S. C., containing about 2,000 acres whereon the said Thomas Sloan now lives.

I also give and bequeath to the said Thomas Sloan all those 22 negroes now in his possession on the said plantation and also all the personal property on the said plantation, of what kind soever, forever. But on this condition, that he pay my youngest son James Madison Sloan, three thousand dollars, if the said James Madison Sloan shall live to have lawful issue and die under twenty-one, then his children to have it. But if he die without issue under-age then the said sum of Three Thousand dollars to be paid to my executors and by them divided between the living children and the legal representatives of those that may be dead if any of said ten children should die previous to the time he may be of age if he had lived, the distribution to be share and share alike. I also reserve to my executors the present crop of cotton and the corn that may not be needed for use on the said farm for stock and etc.

Item 9: I give and devise to my son William Sloan all the plantation whereon I now live, containing two thousand acres composed of five several tracts of land lying adjoining to each other, reserving to my beloved wife Susannah Sloan the right to live in the house we now live in or the house and the plantation where Jesse Stribling lately lived at the option of my said wife, during her natural life, and if she should prefer the house where Stribling lived, the said William Sloan is to repair the same in any manner she may direct and permit her to have any quantity of land for cultivation she may desire.

Item 10: I give and devise to my youngest son James Madison Sloan all my lands and real estate whatsoever, to same may be situated to be by my executors, sold for his benefit or kept for him until he shall arrive at the age of twenty-one years at the option and in the discretion of my Executrix and Executor, and I do hereby appoint my affectionate wife Susannah Sloan, and my Dutiful son David Sloan Guardian of the person and the effects of my said youngest son James M. Sloan hereby giving them the power to do any needful thing for him at their discretion.

Item 11: I give and bequeath to my two youngest sons William and James Madison Sloan, the two thirds of fifty four negro slaves now in my possession not herein otherwise disposed of (or intended to be so) and the two thirds of all the personal property now on this plantation (not herein disposed of or intended so to be hereby)—that is the remainder thereof after my beloved wife may have taken out one third, and the same shall be kept on this plantation for the use and benefit thereof and shall continue in the possession of my Executrix and Executor for them until the said William arrives at lawful age when the property shall be delivered over to him used for his own benefit until the said James M. Sloan arrives at the age of 21 years, or be married, at which time a dividend of the negroes now here and then increased shall be fairly and equally divided between the said James M. Sloan and the said William Sloan or their representatives—and in case either or both of them die without issue or disposing of their property or under age, then the part of the one so dying shall be divided between the children then living and the representatives of the deceased. My youngest son is not to have anything by this bequest, except the half of the negroes living at the time he comes of age.

Item 12: I give and bequeath to Joe Taylor and to Nancy his wife all the personal property by me heretofore placed in his possession and which he now hath. I also direct my Executrix and Executor to pay him One thousand dollars within one year after my death.

Item 13: I give to Joseph B. Earle and Rebecca his wife, my loving daughter, all the lands which he may have purchased in our joint names according to the intention of the Deed of Covenant, executed by him and myself on which I furnished him Three thousand dollars, and I also give him all the personal property, negroes, etc., which I have heretofore placed in his hands. I also release him of all demands which I have against him or any account whatsoever except the amount of a note of land of his which I have paid the cash for, to James Rucker. It is dated Oct. 16th, 1817, and due the first of January 1818 for $950.00. And my Executrix and Executor are hereby directed to call on him for the principal and the interest of the said note, and that all other accounts between me and the said Jos. B. Earle shall be forever settled. And he is to have and to hold and possess all the property he received from me.

Item 14: I give and bequeath to John P. Benson and Katherine his wife my youngest daughter the whole of the negroes and other personal estate heretofore by me put in his possession. And do hereby give and bequeath to them in addition to that I have heretofore given and advanced to them, the sum of $2,314.00 within one year after my death.

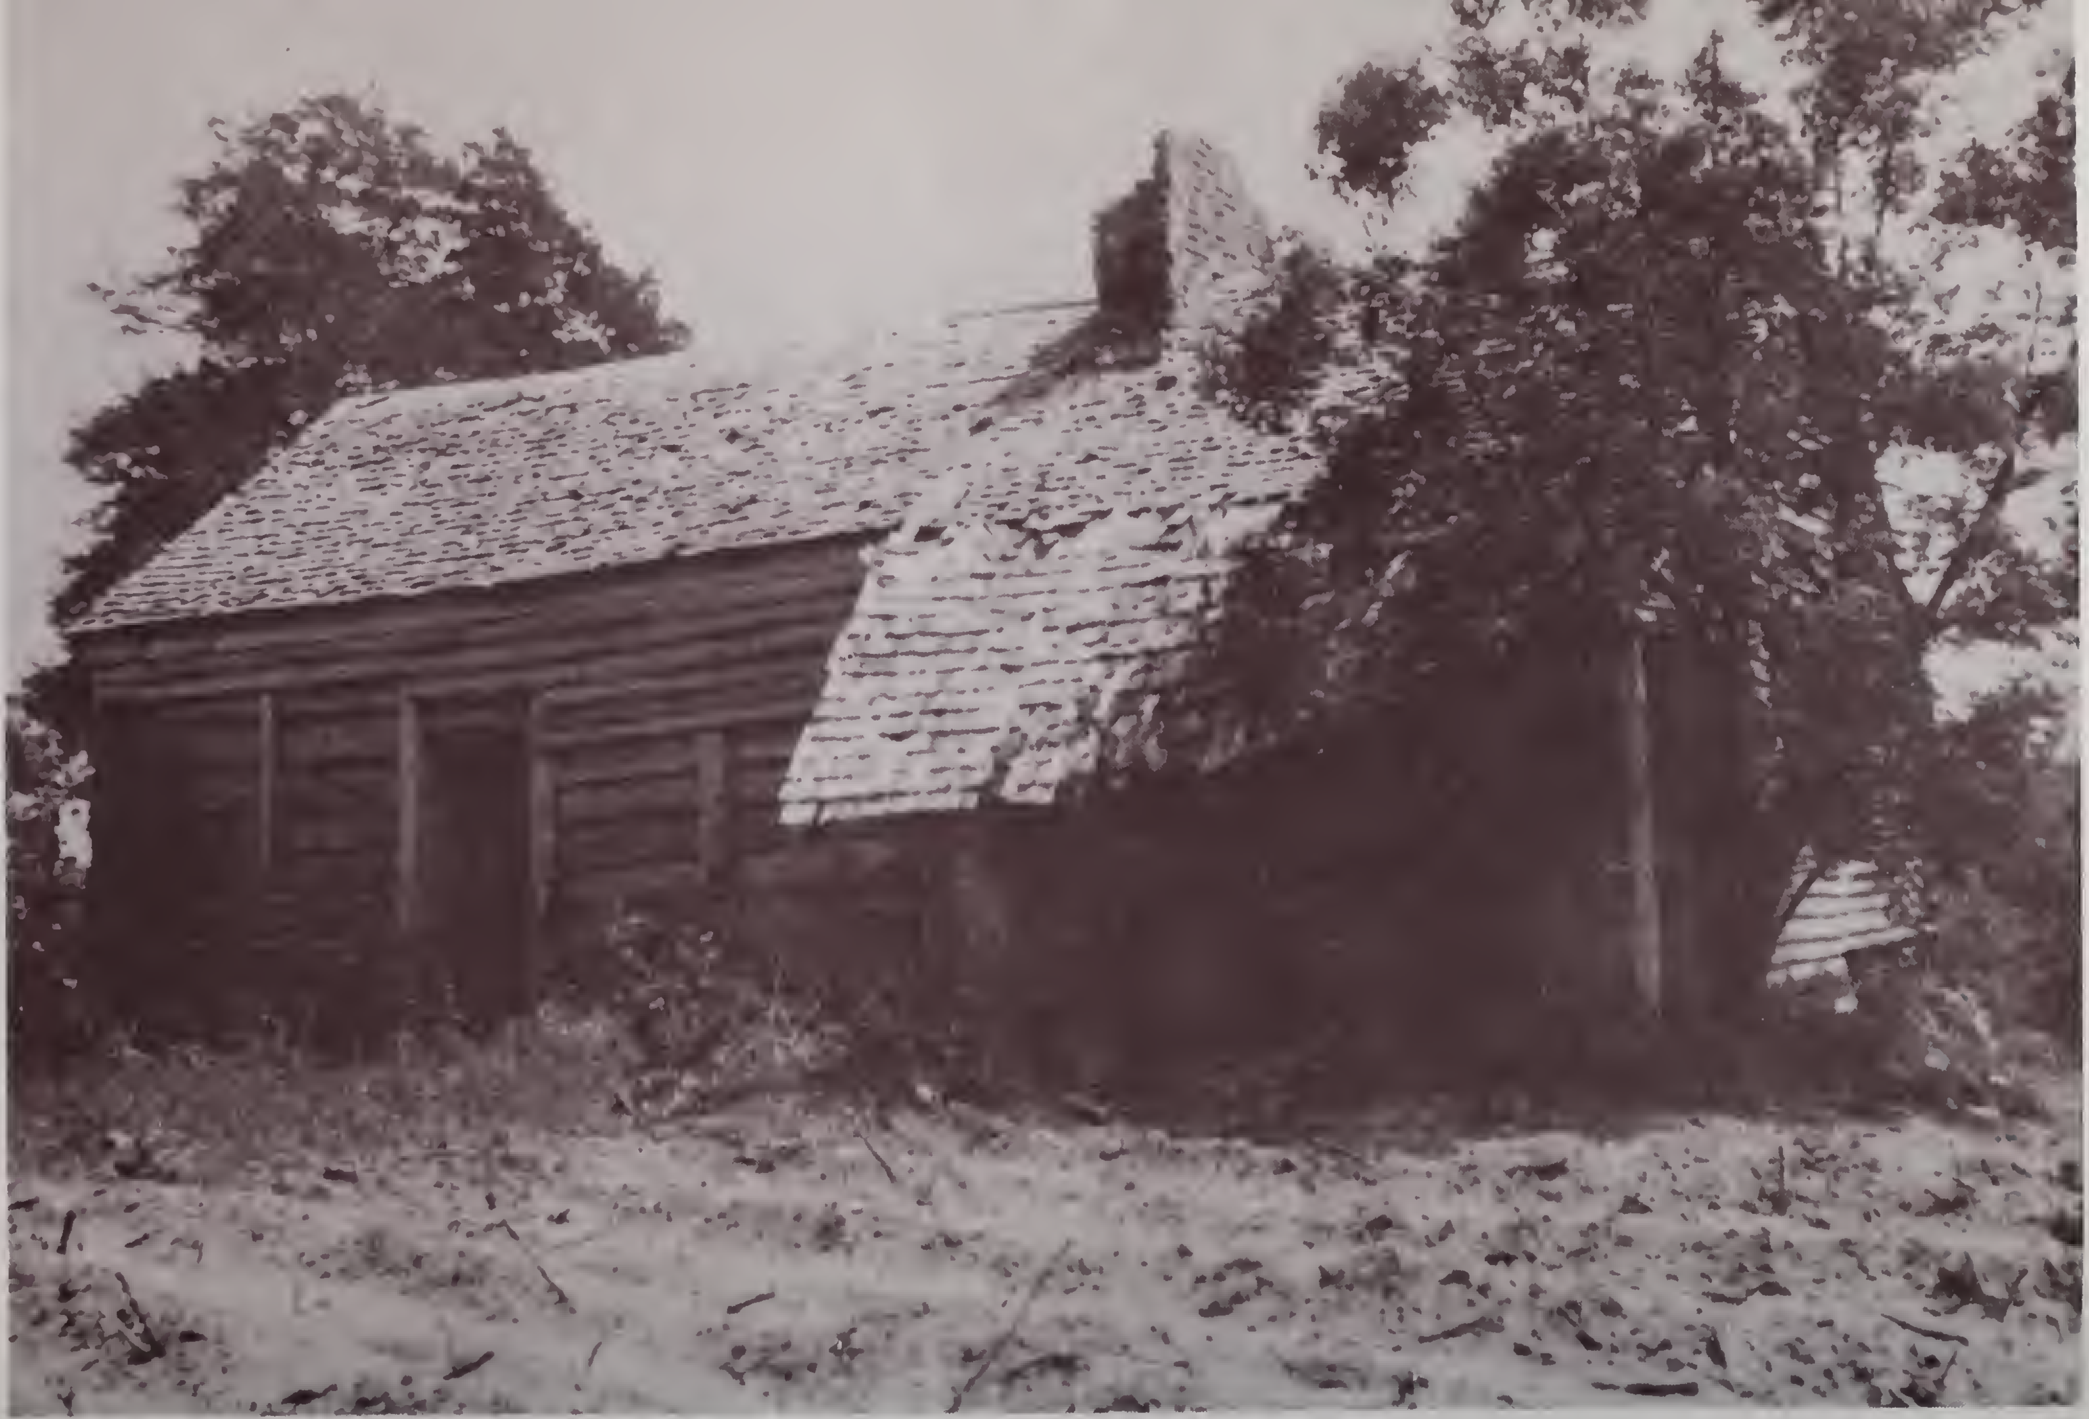
Item 15: I give and bequeath to my grandson David S. Taylor one negro boy named Bob about 14 years of age, called little Bob.

Item 16: I give and bequeath to my granddaughter Susannah Taylor one negro girl named Elvina 6 or 8 years of age.

Item 17: I give and bequeath to my grandson Charles Bruce one negro boy named Edward about 16 years of age.

Finally: All the rest and residue of my personal estate, debts, and chattels of whatever kind and wheresoever the same may be and not herein before effectually disposed of (after paying of my debts legacies and personal expenses and other charges) I do hereby give and bequeath to be collected and equally divided by my Executrix and Executor between my ten children and their legal representatives.

It has been my wish and aim to do justice between my children who stand equally dear to me, and I have made some difference between those who have had their property for a length of time and those who have just received it and I think I have done them justice. And I do hereby constitute and appoint my said wife



David and Susan Sloan's Home

Another early settler and Revolutionary soldier was David Sloan, who with his wife Susan, came to this section in 1784, and settled beside the cane-brakes on Seneca River. When they came to South Carolina they had two children, twins, David and Susan. It is told that often during her husband's absence, Mrs. Sloan finding it necessary to take grain to the mill, some distance from her home, she put her children to sleep and hid them in the cane brake, while she shouldered the sack of grain and did her errand, always returning in dread lest during her absence the Indians had raided the place and murdered the children. David Sloan was a captain of a North Carolina Company during the Revolution.

Fork Township lies between Tugaloo and Seneca Rivers. Its boundaries form an almost equilateral triangle about eleven miles in length with Andersonville at its apex, lying in the fork of the rivers; the name of this section was inevitable, and antidated the subdivisions of the county into townships, by many years.

The first settlers in this section were David Sloan and his wife Susan. The young couple came to try their future in the newly opened Highlands of South Carolina. They pitched their tent on the West bank of the Seneca River, at a point subsequently known as Sloan's Ferry. The exact date of their coming is unknown, but they obtained a grant of 1,500 acres of land from the state, and one chimney of their old home bore the date 1794. It is safe to conjecture that they must have been there ten years before becoming able to erect a dwelling that should be occupied as long as the family held together. It was standing in 1896, at that time the property of J. S. Fowler.

They acquired what was wealth for that time, and tradition represents Mr. Sloan as very kind and lovable, and Mrs. Sloan who was Susan Majors, as a woman of unusual intellect. They brought up a large family of sons and daughters. Their eldest son William died in 1804, at twenty-one years of age. The second child was a daughter Elizabeth, who married Jesse Stribling. The next were the twins David, who married Nancy Trimmier, and Susan who married Robert Bruce. The next daughter Nancy married Joseph Taylor. Next came a little girl named Mary who lived not quite a year. Rebecca the next married Dr. Joseph Berry Earle; Benjamin Franklin married Eliza C. Earle; Thomas M. married Nancy Blassingame; Catherine married J. B. Benson; J. Madison married Rebecca Linton. The children and grandchildren of these sons and daughters married into families bearing the most respected names of the section. The descendants are numbered among the best people of the county.

COPY OF A LETTER

Greenville, S. C.
July 14th, 1928.

Dear Cousin:

I enclose photos of David Sloan Homestead, and of the graveyard before and after the work of restoration, which was completed in December at a cost of $291.60. The delay in making the report is due to the inability to get photos sooner.

The old homestead which stands upon a hillside high above the valley of the Seneca River, was built in 1794, a log cabin about twenty feet square, weatherboarded.

The group shown in the pictures are four descendants of the fourth generation.

The place is west of Seneca River, about three quarters of a mile east of the Dobbins Bridge Road, and about eleven miles from Anderson. The land was granted by the state of South Carolina in 1791, after the expulsion of the Cherokee Indians.

Although the graveyard is said to have been rather a large one, I was able to resurrect only five tombstones: David Sloan, his wife Susan Majors Sloan: Elizabeth Sloan and her husband, Jessee Stribling, and an infant daughter of David and Nancy Trimmier. The last three are marble headstones, and David Sloan's was a flat tombstone about three by six feet. These were all slightly damaged, but were used again, the inscriptions being perfectly legible after cleaning. Susan Sloan's tombstone, of the same size as David Sloan's, was so broken that it was necessary to replace with a new stone. The headstones were set up in cement, and the others laid on a platform of rock and cement one foot high. The space was enclosed with a cemented rock wall three feet high and one foot thick. The floor was paved with cement to prevent the growth of weeks and grass. I was unable to find a location from which it was possible to make a single photo, showing all the details, consequently, I took two side views, the smaller showing the entire outside, and the larger one, one end only. In these photos the headstones of Elizabeth and Jesse Stribbling, appear with the child's between them, above the top of the wall. The end view was taken from a branch of a tree, looking down, but it took in all of the tombs except Susan Major's of which only a small corner appears in the bottom of the picture on the right.

I thank you individually and collectively for your assistance in the work. I am especially indebted to Cousin M. S. Stribling, of Greenville, for the interest he showed in the work. He not only made a contribution, but secured subscriptions from several members of the Stribling family; to Mr. John Taylor of Greenville, and my Cousin Harry Poe, also of Greenville for the photo work.

DAVID SLOAN

Copied from Simpson's Book.

Captain David Sloan, the progenitor of this race, in the United States was born in County Down, Ireland, in the year 1753. He was a captain in a company of North Carolina troops in the Revolutionary War. Captain Sloan married Susan Majors, and moved soon thereafter to Pendleton District, South Carolina. He settled on the Sececa River ten miles west of the present site of the Anderson County Court House, and made that place his home until his death, which occurred on the 9th of October 1826, at the age of 73 years.

His wife Susan lived on at the old homestead, until her death which occurred on the 5th of September, 1853 at the age of 92. This honorable couple had born unto them twelve children, six sons and six daughters. The firstborn which occurred on the 19th of May 1787, were twins and were named for their parents, David and Susan.

DAVID & SUSAN MAJORS SLOAN

Mark this man and woman well. So oppressed at home that they gladly left country, friends, family and fireside to brave the wilds of a new world, that offered them a chance.

No social security promised here. No welfare organizations. No old age pensions proffered. Only was there a chance to work, to save, to have, to own. An age that produced strong men and women in mind, in intellect, in sinew, in brawn, and left the weaklings to fall beside the road. The best improved and succeeded and produced large families. The lazy, worthless and improvident perished along with their offspring. Such families as these made America what it became. And all who descend from these men and women, should note and be proud of their ancestors. And should seek to emulate their methods and action; and spurn the offered security of a paternal government "from the cradle to the grave."

What a tragedy, that the very land that this man won, cleared, cultivated and improved should sink under the waters of the Hartwell Dam. A socialistic uneconomical project, that takes from those that earn and have and give to those who won't earn and have not. Yes his land, his home, his grave, his very dust is to be drowned by this flood of water.

But you own his memory and his blood flows in your veins. What will it profit you and your country? God grant that you may never have to seek a new land as he did.

ANNE WIER

Anne Wier was the daughter of John Wier and Margaret Wilson. She was the second child and was born on November 1, 1819, near Abbeville, S. C.

She married William Nicholas Martin in 1839. They had two children; one was Ruellura Anne Martin, born in 1838 and died Oct. 13, 1901. She married John Comer Abercrombie. The second child was William Wier Martin, of whom we have no record. There is a grave at Long Cane Cemetery, Abbeville, S. C., marked to the memory of Julia Kathleen, daughter of W. N .and Mary E. Martin, died October 13, 1848, age 2 yrs. 10 months & 13 days. William Nicholas Martin married a second time after the death of Anne Wier. His wife's name was Mary E.

On June 24, 1950, John Alexander Wier, writing to his bride-to-be the day before the wedding in Anderson, S. C., states that he will bring a Mr. Martin along with him. We have this letter in our files. We assume that he was speaking of the Mr. Martin who had married his sister.

The only other thing known to us about Ruellura Anne Martin is a notation in the will of John Wier (1849), filed Abbeville, C. H. S. C., in which he says, "To my two grandchildren Ruellura Martin and William Wier Martin, children of my deceased daughter Anne, one third of my estate." There is a codicil to the will which reads, "On condition that the father of Ruellura Martin will pay her board in Abbeville Village, to send her to Dr. Turner's School, and to pay her tuition out of her share of the estate."

At the Court House in Abbeville, S. C., is also a tax bill for Ruellura Martin, dated July 25, 1862: "Received of Miss Ruellura Martin $10.43 for her War Tax of the Confederate States, under act of the Assembly passed December 1861. Less 5 percent if paid by July 1862."

Anne Wier Martin died in 1842. The grave is at Long Cane Presbyterian Church Cemetery and is marked: "Anne Martin wife of Wm. N. Martin daughter of John Wier born 11-1-1819 died August 6, 1842."

AUGUSTUS LYTHGOE WIER

Lythgoe was born in Greenville, S. C., on September 23rd, 1898, but went to Athens, Georgia as a young child when his father moved there to enter the cotton oil business. In the year 1931 he returned to the city of his birth and has been closely associated with its business, religious, and civic affairs, and now calls it his home.

Augustus Lythgoe Wier was the youngest child of a family of six that were born to John Benson Wier and Julia Williamene Smith. He had one sister, Carrie Ama Wier, and four brothers, John Benson Wier Jr., Van Noy Wier, William Alexander Wier, and Julian Wier; the last named died in infancy. After moving to Athens, Georgia, his father first bought a home on Hill Street, later moving to Springdale Street, on Milledge Circle, where the family lived together for many years.

He was educated in the grade schools of Athens, Georgia, and entered the University of Georgia in 1916, attending there for four years and graduating in the Law School. During the First World War he was stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor in Kentucky and attended the Field Artillery School, from which he graduated as a 2nd Lieutenant, but was discharged before active service was required.

Augustus Jackson Lythgoe was born on February 16th, 1830, and was a native of Abbeville District, S. C. He married Margaret Issabella Wier, and was at one time in business with John Alexander Wier, her brother. Along with many of the finest men of the South he volunteered for service at the start of the Confederate War at the age of thirty. He was killed in action at the Battle of Murfreesboro, Tenn., and buried on the battlefield. A stone was erected to his memory in the Wier family plot at Long Cane Cemetery near Abbeville, S. C. It was because of the love and admiration of this man by the family that Augustus Lythgoe Wier received his name, which can be handed down with just pride.

Into the Presbyterian Church, Augustus Lythgoe Wier was baptized as a child in Greenville, S. C. He joined the First Presbyterian Church of Athens, Ga., in 1908. Upon moving back to Greenville, S. C., he became associated with the First Presbyterian Church of that city and entered into its work and worship, and was recognized by it by being elected as a Deacon in 1940. In 1947 he was elected as an Elder in this church, an office which he now holds. He served for several years as Clerk of the Session, giving of his time and ability.

For five years he was connected with the Quaker State Oil Company and traveled this section, making Greenville his headquarters. In the year 1936 he formed an oil company in Greenville, S. C., known as the Associated Oil Company, located on the New Buncombe Road at the Southern Railway crossing. In 1954 his brother Van Noy Wier also returned to Greenville and now works with him.

At the University of Georgia he was a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity. In Greenville he is a member of the Kiwanis Club, and B.P.O. Elks. He has been a member of the Salvation Army Advisory Board, and served as Chairman in the year 1958.

Augustus Lythgoe Wier married Maybeth Huggins on Nov. 6, 1919. She was a native of Athens, Ga. While attending High School together, they became sweethearts, and as such have remained. They had two children—Mary Julia Wier, who was born August 23, 1920, and Margaret Lythgoe Wier, born December 6, 1926 and died on January 6, 1931. Mary Julia Wier married Cornelius Carpenter Elphick on September 1, 1942. He was born August 19, 1919, in New York City. They have the following children: Richard Wier Elphick, born June 17, 1943; James Carpenter Elphick, born November 1, 1947; Margaret Elphick, born February 6, 1951, died in infancy; Allen Lee Elphick, born March 17, 1953; and Neil Lythgoe Elphick, born July 22, 1957.

Quiet and unassuming, yet willing and able to take hold of any job that is given him in his church or community, Lythgoe is a distinct asset to the social, religious, and business life of Greenville.

CARRIE AMA WIER

1885–

Carrie Ama Wier was the daughter and first-born of John Benson Wier and Julia Williamene Smith. She was born and reared in Greenville, S. C., where her father was engaged in the grocery business.

Carrie Ama Wier was born at the family home at 627 North Main Street in Greenville, S. C., on September 18, 1885. She went to the grade school in Greenville. In 1900 the Wier family moved to Athens, Georgia, where Mr. Wier was manager of a cotton oil mill.

For two years she attended the Lucy Cobb Institute of Athens and later went for two years to the Georgia State Normal School, also located in that city. The former school is now out of existence, and the latter is incorporated into the School of Education of the University of Georgia. She received a diploma from each institution.

She joined the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville in 1897, when she was twelve years old, and immediately was connected with the First Presbyterian Church of Athens when she moved there in 1900.

She married Henry Earle Stradley of Greenville, S. C., on Feb. 10, 1909, in Athens, Georgia. Moving back to Greenville where her husband was engaged in the dry-goods business, they first lived on Hampton Avenue and later moved into a house on Clarendon Avenue, Sans Souci. Around 1925 she moved to Bradenton, Florida, with her husband, returned again to Greenville for a few months, and then went to Orlando, Florida, where Mr. Stradley was connected with Ivey Co.

Henry Earle Stradley was born on January 26, 1885, in Greenville. He was originally a member of the Baptist Church but later joined the Presbyterian Church with his wife, and became a most faithful and valuable member of that church. He was ordained an Elder in the First Presbyterian Church of Orlando and remained so until his death on December 7, 1954.

Two children were born to this wedlock: Julia Pate Stradley was born Nov. 21, 1909. She married Clarke Dolive on January 19, 1940 and has three children, Marian Jean, Henry Clarke, and

Carrie Ama Wier
Wife of Henry Earle Stradley

Louis Dolive. Henry Earle Stradley, Jr., was born June 15, 1911. He married, first, Gerrie Bradasich on March 25, 1936; and they had two children, John Alexander Stradley and James Anthony Stradley. After the death of his wife on December 6, 1950, he married Hazel Krebs on August 22, 1953.

Carrie Ama Stradley devoted her life to the Women's Work of the Presbyterian Church. At one time she was President of the Women's Auxiliary in Greenville, S. C., and also of the First Presbyterian Church in Orlando, Florida. She served in various capacities on the Executive Boards of the Women of the Church of St. Johns Presbytery, including being Presbyterian President. She was also on the Board of the Women of the Church of the Florida Synod.

In Greenville, S. C., she was a member and a President of the Rotary Book Club, and was also a very active member in the Orlando Garden Club.

At present (1959) she is living in the home at 1701 S. Delaney Street, Orlando, Florida.

Joel Alexander Wier
Son of Joel Cunningham Wier and Lily Burns

JOEL ALEXANDER WIER

1883–1959

Joel Alexander Wier was the second child and the first son of Joel Cunningham Wier and Sarah Elizabeth Burns. He was born on October 27, 1883.

His youth was spent in Ninety Six, where his father lived and had a general merchandise business. He attended Clemson College and graduated in 1904 in a class of forty-three. Among the records is an invitation to the Eighth Annual Commencement of Clemson Agricultural College of June fifth to seventh, 1904, at Memorial Hall. Beside his name on the class roll are the words "Design of an 8 H.P. D.C. Motor."

After graduation Joel Alexander Wier was employed by the Westinghouse Company in Philadelphia. He later went to Mexico.

About 1910 he went to Athens, Georgia, and was in business with O. M. Roberts in electrical work. He was the secretary of the Athens Chamber of Commerce, later becoming the Executive Director of the Housing Authority of the City of Athens, Georgia.

He early joined the Presbyterian Church, which was the church of his father, and, upon going to Athens, Georgia became associated with the First Presbyterian Church there and was elected as a deacon.

Joel Alexander Wier married Rosena Elizabeth Thomas on June 12, 1912. She was born on April 21, 1884. They had the following children:

> Joel Alexander Wier, Jr., born July 25, 1913, married Mary Ellen Bird on December 21, 1940. Rosena Elizabeth Wier, born May 25, 1919, married Burton Bryant Chandler on December 27, 1941. George Dudley Thomas Wier, born October 18, 1922, married Sarah Frances Brown on March 9, 1946. Isabel Thomas Wier, born January 1, 1924, married William Lofton Woodard on July 17, 1948.

Joel Alexander Wier died at Athens, Georgia, on June 6, 1959.

Joel Cunningham Wier
Born 1859 – Died 1931

JOEL CUNNINGHAM WIER
1859–1931

Joel Cunningham Wier was the third son and the fourth child of John Alexander Wier and Susan Majors Benson. He was born at Abbeville, S. C., on July 8, 1859.

As a young man he was connected with W. Joel Smith and Company of Abbeville, and afterwards he was in business at Bradley and Ninety Six. For several years he was connected with Durst Andrews Company of Greenwood, S. C. We have on hand a letterhead and piece of stationery on which is printed "Wier-Martin Company. General Merchandise. Ninety Six, S. C. J. C. Wier Pres., & Manager J. T. Martin Secretary. Capital Paid in $10,000." He later operated a general store at Ninety Six.

His home was on East Cambridge Street on a corner lot. The house was cool and well shaded by huge oak trees. There were several large pecan trees in the rear yard.

He married Sarah Elizabeth Burns on February 16, 1882. She was known as Lillie. She was born on February 1, 1863, and she died on February 22, 1942. They were married by Rev. J. L. Martin at Abbeville, C. H. She was the daughter of William Henry Burns and Jane Thomas Allen. Jane Thomas Allen was the daughter of Thomas Allen and Elizabeth C. Myrick. They were married on July 3, 1832. Elizabeth C. Myrick was born on June 5, 1815. Sarah Elizabeth Burns became an orphan at an early age and was taken in and raised as a member of the family by William Joel Smith of Abbeville, S. C.

Joel Cunningham Wier and Sarah Elizabeth Burns had the following children: Joel Alexander Wier, born October 27, 1883, died June 6, 1959; Kate Wier, born January 1, 1886, died November 9, 1886; Ione Allen Wier, born Oct. 4; 1887, died December 2; 1905; Susie Wier, born October 30, 1889, died November 13, 1890; Lillie Annie Wier, born May 6, 1892, died July 17, 1914; Catherine Wier, born September 29, 1897, (living in 1959); Allen Smith Wier, born June 27, 1899, died September 25, 1901; John (Jack) Benson Wier, born August 18, 1901, (living in 1959).

Joel Cunningham Wier was a sweet and lovable man, with an even temper that endeared him to his many friends and all that came in contact with him. He had a long bushy mustache, popular in that period, and he enjoyed smoking a pipe.

He was a member of the Presbyterian Church at Ninety Six, in which he served as an elder.

Joel Cunningham Wier died on December 19, 1931, and the funeral was conducted at the Presbyterian Church of Ninety Six, which was just across the street from his home. Services were read by his pastor, the Rev. W. S. Porter, assisted by Rev. John Benson Sloan. He was buried in the adjoining church cemetery, and the grave is marked by a stone. His wife and several of his children are also buried at Ninety Six Presbyterian Church.

JOHN WIER, JR.

John Wier, Jr., was born on November 28, 1781, and was the son of John Wier Sr., and Mary Stewart. We find in a pamphlet written by Leonardo Andrea, entitled the "Forty-sixth Annual Wyatt Reunion, at the Greenville Presbyterian Church near Donalds, S. C., held on Sunday June 15, 1952," the following information. "John Wier, Sr., was a Private and a soldier in the Revolutionary War, and was captured by the British in the Battle of Brier Creek near Augusta, Georgia, and placed on a prison ship in Charleston harbor, where he died. John Wier, Sr., was buried at St. Phillips Episcopal Church in Charleston. In later years his only son, John Wier, moved the body to the Greenville Presbyterian Church Cemetery, near what is now known as Donalds, S. C."

John Wier, Sr., married Mary Stewart, the daughter of William Stewart and Jennet Caldwell. William Stewart was also a soldier in the Revolutionary War. After John Wier, Sr., died, his widow, Mary Stewart, married Robert Richey, the son of Margaret Caldwell and James Richey, Sr., and had by him nine children. I have noted in Long Cane Presbyterian Church Cemetery, near Abbeville, S. C., that, along with and adjacent to the graves of the Wiers, are those of Robert Richey, born 1787, died 1846; William Richey, born October, 1787, died August 4, 1819; Margaret Dun Richey, born January 17, 1819 and died 1831; and others.

I have in the Wier family records a photograph of the marriage license of John Wier, Jr., that reads as follows:

> South Carolina, Abbeville District. By Taliaferro Livingston, Ordinary. To any lawful or regular minister of the Gospel of said district: — These are to authorize and empower you or any one of you, to join together in Holy Bands of Matrimony Mr. John Wier and Miss Margaret Wilson, both of this District, and this shall be your efficient warrant.

> On the reverse side is written: Abbeville District, South Carolina. Upper Long-cane Church. I do hereby certify that on the 28th day of November 1815, that marriage of Mr. John Wier and Miss Margaret Wilson was duly solemnized, by me. Signed Wm. H. Barr, D. M.

I was told by his granddaughters, Kate Wier Wynne and Mrs. Margaret Wier Carpenter, that John Wier, Jr., and his wife, Margaret Ann Wilson, were both born in Abbeville District of S. C. And that they went on a visit to the West Indies while on their bridal tour. They became attracted to the country and decided to settle there. They purchased lands and slaves and obtained a large plantation where sugar, cotton and some coffee were raised. This plantation was on Cat Island or Little San Salvadore. The first child of John Wier, Jr., and Margaret Ann Wilson was born on Cat Island, and was named John Alexander Wier. He was born January 12, 1816. When this child was about six months old, about June, 1816, they visited their old home in Abbeville District, and, finding the home ties very strong and upon the solicitude of the family, they decided to remain in this country, and they settled in Abbeville District.

Upon leaving Cat Island they had left their property in charge of a cousin named Robert Thompson. Later they sold out completely and only had sent back a few of their belongings.

They brought back with them three slaves, the maximum that was allowed; they were named Ned Wier and his parents, Tom and Ida. He also brought back a large wooden chest, or trunk, and a certain amount of mahogany and walnut wood. This chest was in the possession of his daughter, Mrs. Anne Wier Carpenter, until her death. From the mahogany and walnut wood negro slaves on his plantation who were trained as cabinet makers made several pieces of furniture, some of which are still in the family. Among these are a walnut candle stand now in the possession of Ruth Carpenter, a mahogany circle table in the possession of Thomas Summerfield Carpenter, Jr., a crotch mahogany bureau owned by Anne Wier McKoy Parks, and a mahogany sewing table owned by his great granddaughter, Sue Wier McKoy. It is also to be noted that the candle stand, the circle table and a writing desk are listed in the inventory of John Wier's estate, which is recorded in Abbeville, S. C., Court House, in the year 1850.

Settlement of the estate of John Wier, Jr., was made in the Court of Ordinary on the 27th day of March, 1850. Miss Reullura Martin received $2,195.24.

The will of John Wier, as recorded in Abbeville, S. C., Probate Office, is as follows:

> I John Wier in the Abbeville District of the said state of South Carolina, being of sound mind and disposing memory and understanding, but calling to mind the uncertainty of life and being desirous of making some disposition of my property, do make and

The part purchased by John Alexander Wier amounted to $2,044.04

*You will find listed in the inventory one Writing Case. This was kept and treasured by John Alexander Wier's daughters, Kate Wier Wynne and Ann Wier Carpenter, and upon their death it was given to Henry B. McKoy, the husband of Sue C. McKoy, nee Carpenter, the great granddaughter of the original owner, John Wier.

The inventory of the estate of John Wier of Abbeville, in 1850, also included in part the following:

*Walnut Candle Stand is now in possession of Ruth Carpenter.

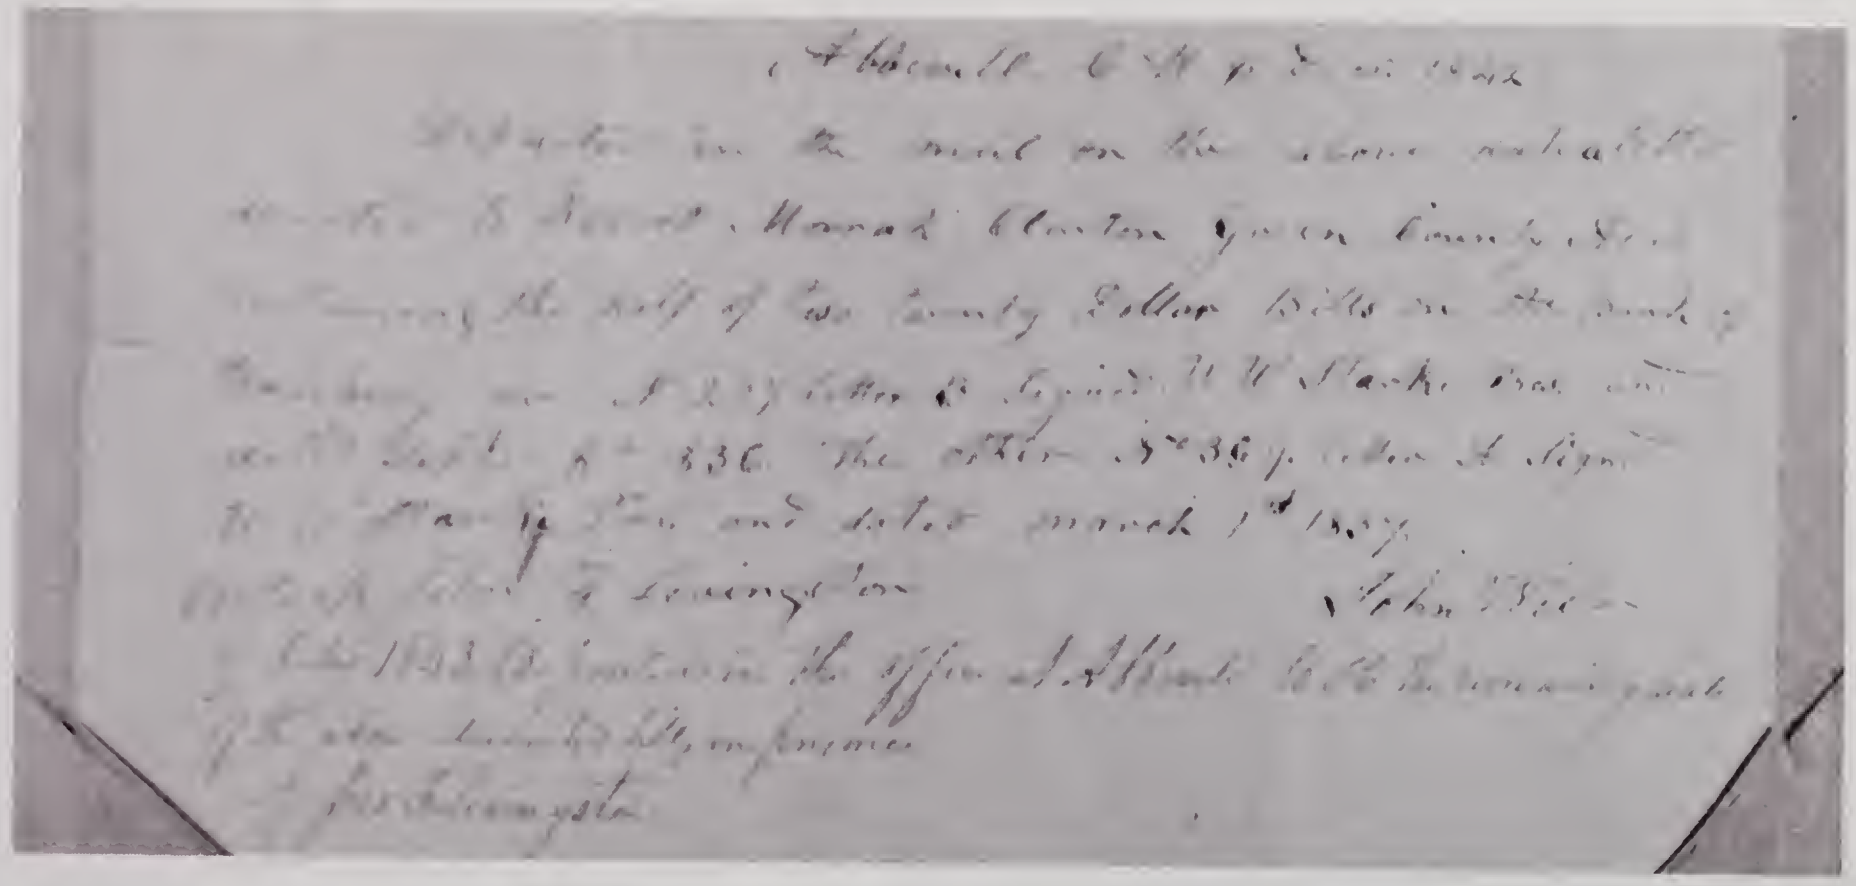
The total value of the estate of John Wier in 1850 was listed at $15,692.94.

Margaret Ann Wilson, who married John Wier, Jr., was the daughter of George Wilson, who was a Private in the Revolutionary War. Her mother, Ann Richey, married, after the death of George Wilson, Hugh Morrah and had one son, Robert Morrah. George Wilson lived opposite the Greenville Presbyterian Church, near what is now known as Donalds, S. C., and he kept a stage coach tavern.

John Wier Jr., and Margaret Ann Wilson had the following children:

John Alexander Wier	b. Jan. 12, 1816	d. Sept. 8, 1886
Margaret Isabella Wier	b. Aug. 20, 1832	d. June 6, 1913
Mary Jane Wier	b. June 15, 1925	d. July 11, 1846
Anne Wier	b. Jan. 27, 1819	d. Aug. 6, 1842

There is on file in the Abbeville, S. C., Court House the will of William Stewart, who was the grandfather of John Wier. It is in Box No. 87 and File No. 7112. This will was made in 1794 but was not administered until 1820, when he died. In this will he leaves to his grandson, John Wier, certain things.



Signature of
John Wier, to an agreement
Abbeville, S. C. – Dec. 8, 1842

There is among the records of the Wier family, now in possession of Henry B. McKoy, an agreement which reads as follows:

> Abbeville C. H. 8 Dec. 1842.
> Deposited in the mail on the above date a letter directed to Robert Morrah, Clinton, Green County Alab. containing the half of two twenty dollar bills on the Bank of Hamburg, one No. 207 letter B. signed W. W. Stark, Pres., and dated Sept. 8, 1836. The other No. 369. letter A, signed W. W. Stark, Pres. and dated March 1st, 1837.
> Witness. John F. Livingston 9, Feb. 1943. Deposited in the office of Abbeville C. H. the remaining halfs of the above described bills in presence of John F. Livingston.
> Signed: JOHN WIER.

It is interesting to note that the Robert Morrah mentioned above, is the son of Ann Richey and Hugh Morrah. Margaret Ann Wilson, who married John Wier, was also the daughter of Ann Richey and George Wilson, who was Ann's first husband. Therefore Robert Morrah, to whom the halves of two twenty dollar bills were sent, was John Wier's half-uncle.

Both John Wier, Jr., and his wife, Margaret Ann Wilson, were Scotch Presbyterians and were members of Long Cane Presbyterian Church, located near Abbeville, S. C. They are both buried in the Church cemetery, and their graves are marked with raised brick tombs covered with a heavy flat slab of marble. His reads as follows. "In memory of John Wier, born 28th of November, 1781, and died 17th of February, 1849. Age 67 years, 2 months and 17 days. A member of the Presbyterian Church for thirty five years. He was esteemed an upright man, and an humble Christian, affectionate in his family, and kind to all. He died as he had lived, in peace with God and mankind. The memory of the just is blest."

JOHN WIER, SR.

In the old Greenville Presbyterian Church Cemetery, near Donalds, S. C., is the grave of John Wier, who is the earliest member of the Wier family that we have any known record. He is buried there beside his wife.

These graves are marked by white marble stones that were erected in the year 1952, through the efforts of the Star Fort Chapter and the Hudson Berry Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The grave stones themselves were furnished by the United States Government. Mr. Leonardo Andrea sought out and assembled the information and records necessary for the D.A.R. to obtain these markers and official recognition that John Wier was a soldier in the Revolution, and that this was the place of burial. His grave stone is marked "John Wier Private, S. C. Militia, Revolutionary War. 1750–1780." His wife's grave stone is marked "Mary, Relict of John Wier, wife of Robert Richey, daughter of Jennett Caldwell and William Stewart. 1762 circa 1835.

John Wier, as a Private in the S. C. Militia, was in the Battle of Briar Creek, near Augusta, Georgia, and he was captured by the British there, taken to Charleston, S. C., and placed on a prison ship in the harbor. He died there and was buried at St. Phillip's Episcopal Church in Charleston.

On page No. 338 of the Register of St. Phillips Parish, Charleston, S. C., 1754–1810, which was edited by D. E. Huger Smith and A. S. Salley Jr., for Colonial Dames of South Carolina, dated 1927, is this record "July 1st, 1780. (Death and Burial) of John Wier, Artillery."

In a pamphlet entitled "46 Annual Wyatt Reunion, combined with Allied and Associated Families, dated June 15, 1952," and prepared by Leonardo Andrea, are these facts: John Wier 1750–1780, was captured by the British at the Battle of Briar Creek in Georgia, and placed on board a prison ship in Charleston harbor, where he died. He was buried at St. Phillip's Episcopal Church. In later years his only child removed the body to Greenville Presbyterian Church. John Wier married Mary Stewart, daughter of Jennett Caldwell and William Stewart. They had one child, who married Margaret Ann Wilson, daughter of George Wilson, a soldier in the Revolutionary War. Mrs. John Wier married a second time to Robert Richey, the son of Margaret Caldwell and James Richey, Sr., and by him had nine children.

Mr. Leonardo Andrea told me (Henry B. McKoy, in 1959) that his grandmother was familiar with the facts of the removal of the remains of John Wier from Charleston to the Greenville Presbyterian Church Cemetery, and that James Washington Richey, a half brother of John Wier, Jr., went with him to Charleston and brought the remains back. His grandmother was familiar with the place of burial in the cemetery also.

John Wier's son, John Wier, Jr., was born November 28, 1781; and he died on February 17, 1849, and is buried beside his wife, Margaret Ann Wilson, at Long Cane Presbyterian Church Cemetery, near Abbeville. These dates are marked on his tomb. As further evidence, there is on file in Box 87, File 7112, at Abbeville S. C., Court House, the will of William Stewart, who was the father-in-law of John Wier, Sr. In this will he mentions his grandson John Wier.

JOHN ALEXANDER WIER

1816–1886

John Alexander Wier was the son of John Wier and Margaret Wilson. His father and mother went to Cat Island or Little San Salvador on their bridal tour and remained there for something over a year. It was on Cat Island that their first child, John Alexander Wier, was born on January 12th, 1816. When he was about six months old, the family returned to the United States and settled near Abbeville at a distance of about four miles from the Court House.

He was educated at Willington Academy on the Savannah, a very famous school near Willington, S. C., taught by the renowned educator, Dr. Wadell.

He was engaged in the mercantile and grocery business in Abbeville, S. C. A copy of the Abbeville Independent of Sept. 25, 1857, has this note, "They are doing business in what is considered a fine brick store and Messers Wier and Lythgoe have just received an extensive stock from New York, which they are selling on the most liberal terms."

His partner, Augustus Jackson Lythgoe, was his brother-in-law, having married his sister, Margaret Isabella Wier. Col. Augustus J. Lythgoe was killed early in the Confederate War, and John A. Wier then took in Joel Cunningham as a partner. He built up a large business; but because of the war and the "Liberal term," the Abbeville Independent tells of suffered reverses.

He owned a two-story house located on Main Street in Abbeville. The house was situated well back from the street with a wide frontage and a very deep lot. This house has recently been purchased by the city of Abbeville and is used as a community building and a library. John Alexander Wier served for several terms on the board of the Abbeville County School Commissioners.

When the Confederate War came on, John A. Wier, being forty-seven years of age, was at first considered too old for actual combat; but wishing to serve his country and state in some manner, he went to Charleston, leaving his family, and found employment at the Confederate Commissary. In a letter to his wife from Charleston dated October 29, 1863, he tells of the firing on Morris Island and Fort Sumter. He lists the prices of food, as: potatoes $6 a bushel, butter $5, flour $80 to $100 per barrel, sugar $3 per lb., coffee $8 a lb., and shoes $50 a pair. (This letter with others is in the possession of his granddaughter, Sue Carpenter McKoy, in 1959.) After the war he returned to Abbeville and continued in business there for some years. At one time he operated a hotel.

John Alexander Wier
Abbeville, S. C. – 1865

John Alexander Wier married Susan Majors Benson on June 25, 1850. She was the daughter of John Prince Benson and Catherine Sloan. They were married in Anderson, S. C., by the Rev. D. McNeil Turner. They had the following children:

Katherine Sloan Wier	b. Aug. 4, 1852	d. May 14, 1942
John Benson Wier	b. Dec. 22, 1854	d. Nov. 25, 1943
Alexander Sloan Wier	b. June 18, 1857	d. Jan. 22, 1860
Joel Cunningham Wier	b. July 8, 1859	d. Dec. 13, 1931
Augustus Lythgoe Wier	b. May 4, 1862	d. June 3, 1863
Margaret Ann Wier	b. June 26, 1864	d. Aug. 10, 1952
Susan Evaline Wier	b. Aug. 28, 1867	d. Sept. 1, 1870
Leila May Wier	b. May 5, 1870	d. Sept. 22, 1889

He sold out and closed up his business in Abbeville and moved to Greenville, S. C., in 1878 where he entered into the life insurance business. He lived with his son John Benson Wier on North Main Street until his death which occurred on September 8, 1886. The body was carried to Abbeville and interred at the Lone Cane Presbyterian Church Cemetery, he having been a member of this church for many years. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. J. F. Gilbert.

There is among the family papers an invitation to his funeral, which consists of a fold of note paper, with a one-inch-wide piece of black silk ribbon running through it. The ribbon is about four feet long. The funeral notice reads, "The friends of Mr. John A. Wier and family are respectfully invited to attend the burial of the former to be held at Long Cane Cemetery, this afternoon. The remains will arrive on the 4:10 o'clock P.M. train and be carried immediately to the Cemetery. Sept. 9th, 1886."

There are also two other such notices on note paper edged in black and with long black ribbons, one for Susan Evaline Wier, September 2, 1870, and another for Augustus Lythgoe Wier of June 4, 1863. These two children are also buried at Long Cane Church Cemetery.

We also have a letter written from Camp Griffin, Fifth Regiment of South Carolina Reserves of January 23, 1863, in part as follows:

> My dear wife; I received yours on Monday night, yesterday. I had almost concluded that you had given out writing me any more letters, as it has been one week today since I received one from you. Tell Joel I will try not forget his present. I received the papers but have not had time to read them yet. I was gone to Bennets Point where our Cavalry pickets are stationed, about fifteen miles below our camp. I have bought twelve stalks of Palmetta for $2.00 to make our hats for the summer. It is very hard to get them at any price. I will go down about five miles below here to get some Magnolias to bring home. We had two deaths in camp this week from Abbeville. Their names are Beasly's. One of them was only sick 16 hours taken with a chill, and by that time was speechless and never spoke any more. The doctor down here says they do not know how to manage the disease. I am sorry they burnt "Slag Brest" in effigy, as he is no more to blame than any one of the council, if any are to blame. The money is to be raised by taxation. The Col. has sent 50 men from our camp to Edgefield and Abbeville, to bring down those men that have not responded to the call. They will be dealt with severely. I am glad they got those negroes in jail, and glad that Ned and Hiram were not in the scrape. I think our regiment will be disbanded in ten or twelve days, if the Governor does not order us to stay longer. Joel, myself, and Sudy all keep well and in good spirits. Mr. Postu has changed his notion about his box of provisions and keeps it open. Mr. Burt gave him a talk about it. He had a fine turkey and spare ribs, and blackberry, so we are feasting fine. Kiss the children and I remain your affectionate husband. John A. Wier.

There is also a newspaper clipping of September 1886, which reads:

> Abbeville, S. C. Mr. John A. Wier formerly of this county, but recently of Greenville City, died at his home last Wednesday after an illness of about two weeks, aged seventy years. Mr. Wier was well known in Abbeville County where he had many friends, who admired him for his honesty of speech and integrity of action. He was nature's nobleman—an honest man. He was at one time School Commissioner of this county, but resigned the office to take up his home in Greenville, where he had lived ever since. Greenville had no truer hearted man than John A. Wier. His remains were brought home, and he now rests at Upper Long Cane.

There is also among the papers of Henry B. McKoy, husband of Sue Wier McKoy, nee Carpenter, a grand-daughter of John Wier, a deed dated December 8, 1852, from John H. Wilson to John Alexander Wier, a piece of land in Abbeville District, recorded in Book 18, pages 26, 30 and 264, at the Court House. It is on a Branch of Norris Creek Waters of Long Cane, containing 81 acres, 3 rods, and 24 perches. It adjoined some property that J. A. Wier now owned. It sold for the sum of one thousand and seven dollars and forty-eight cents. The deed was signed by J. H. Wilson.

JOHN (JACK) BENSON WIER, II

John (Jack) Benson Wier, II, was born in the family home at Ninety Six, S. C. on August 18, 1901. He was the son of Joel Cunningham Wier and Sarah Elizabeth (Lilly) Burns. Both his father and mother were natives of Abbeville, S. C. He attended the graded and high schools of Ninety Six, going from there to the University of Georgia, from which he graduated in 1922 with a B.S.C.E. degree. He was taken into the Kappa Sigma Fraternity at the University.

He is a member of the American Society of Professional Engineers and the Kiwanis Club of Augusta, Georgia. His childhood home was spent on the corner of a beautiful wide, unpaved village street, that was shaded by huge oaks on both sides. Directly across the street was the Presbyterian Church, with which he early in life became connected. The cemetery adjoins this church and in it are buried his parents and other members of his family.

John Benson Wier, II, married first Sarah Alice Coman, on August 19, 1922, She was born June 4, 1902. They adopted a child and named it Louise Wier. He then married Caroline Brooks Tarrant on July 23, 1937. She was born April 15, 1915, and they have the following children: John Benson Wier, III, born August 14, 1938; William Brooks Wier, born October 10, 1940; Marion Alexander Wier, born March 23, 1943; and Sarah Catherine Wier, born February 20, 1946.

He was connected with the South Carolina Highway Department and worked in Greenville, S. C., in the early 1920's. He also worked with the same organization in Anderson County, S. C. He later became the city engineer of Anderson, S. C. He also was associated with the Georgia Highway Department as an Engineer, and lived in Thomson, Georgia, for several years. He is now the County Engineer for Richmond County, Georgia, and located at the county seat, Augusta, where he has erected a home on his own property. During the second World War, he was engaged in contracting in connection with highway and road work.

Jack, as he is familiarly known, has always loved hunting and has kept and raised dogs from his youth up. He also has had considerable experience with raising game birds. He enjoys fishing and any outdoor life or sport. Among his hobbies he also enjoys the art of painting and wood carving.

JOHN BENSON WIER

1854–1943

John Benson Wier was the son and second child of John Alexander Wier and Susan Majors Benson. He was born and raised in the town of Abbeville, South Carolina, where his father was a prominent merchant.

The family home was located on Main Street and consisted of a wooden two-story house on a wide lot and placed well back from the street, with an extensive yard in the rear. The house is now owned by the City of Abbeville and used as a community building and a library.

John Benson Wier was born December 22, 1854, only a few years before the Confederate War, and was old enough to know and remember many of the incidents, trials, and tribulations of that sad period.

His father, John Alexander Wier, in an effort to serve the Confederate cause, left his home and family and went to Charleston, where he was employed in the Confederate Commissary. Although a prosperous merchant before the war, he lost most of his goods and property during the engagements and because of its aftermath.

John Benson Wier went to Greenville, S. C., as a young lad and worked in a general store owned by a Mr. J. W. Davis. Mr. Davis employed six young men as apprentices to his trade, all of whom afterwards became prominent in the mercantile field. They were John Russell, J. W. Lipscomb, George Barr, C. B. Stradley, John Gwynn and John B. Wier. Some of the boys lived in rooms over the store, which was located on Main Street. John Russell and J. W. Lipscomb later bought out his grocery business while Stradley and Barr took over the dry goods department.

After leaving this store, John Wier went to Atlanta and attended a business school, later obtaining employment with the Frank E. Block Candy Company of Atlanta for whom he traveled several years. For some time, he was also employed by a New York firm, selling neck-ties.

At the age of thirty he married Julia Williamene Smith on October 2, 1884, and took her to his home at 627 North Main Street, in Greenville, S. C. They were married by the Rev. G. R.

1854 — 1943

Brackett, D.D., at Charleston, S. C. They had the following children:

Carrie Ama Wier	b. Sept. 18, 1885	d.
John Benson Wier, Jr.	b. June 16, 1888	d.
Van Noy Wier	b. April 4, 1891	d.
Julian Wier	b. July 27, 1892	d. June 2, 1893
William Alexander Wier	b. April 18, 1894	d. Nov. 25, 1953
Augustus Lythgoe Wier	b. Sept. 23, 1898	d.

He was known to be a kind and generous man and at an early age assumed the care and support of his family. His two sisters, his father, and his mother lived with him in Greenville after he bought the home on North Main Street. Early in life he lost his hearing, which gradually became worse as he got older. One was forced to shout to get him to hear at all. But he maintained an interest in people and their affairs, and his good nature and pleasant manner made one want to talk with him.

He loved children and was especially fond of his nieces and nephews, and he was affectionately known by them as "Papa Johnny," a name that was carried on to his great nieces and nephews. He never returned from a trip or made a visit to them without bringing a present. His great nieces, Anne and Katherine McKoy remember and still have presents that he gave them.

In 1893 he was engaged in the grocery business with Mr. John T. Woodside as a partner and operated a retail store known as Woodside-Wier Company. Their store was at the corner of Main and McBee Avenue. For several years he operated as the John B. Wier Grocery, which was located directly under the old Windsor Hotel on the southeast corner of Main and Washington.

We have a letter written by him while on a visit to Anderson, S. C., as a boy of fifteen. He describes his experiences and tells his mother that he was a "good boy." He mentions Cousin Sallie Crayton, Cousin Emma Mauldin, and Cousin Sloan, as well as others.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, S. C., as were the other members of his family. Upon moving to Athens, Georgia, he became a member of the First Presbyterian Church there, and remained so until his death.

For many years he was a member of the B.P.O. Elks in Athens and enjoyed this fraternity and fellowship. He was also a member of the Woodmen of the World and the Knights of Pythias. He loved a joke and was happy to take part in any "horseplay." In spite of the handicap of his hearing, he was "good company." He never missed an opportunity to go fishing and was very fond of this sport, and all connected with it. In his later life he was one of a group of "old cronies" who met regularly and played set-back.

In the year 1900 he moved with his family to Athens, Georgia, and took over the management of a cotton oil mill there, belonging to J. Allen Smith of Abbeville. The Southern Cotton Oil Company bought this mill in 1901, and he was retained as the manager. He retired in 1927 and turned the management over to his son Van Noy Wier.

After moving to Athens he first bought a home on Hill Street, later moving to Springdale and Milledge Circle, where he lived with his family for many years.

He died on Thanksgiving Day, November 25, 1943 in Athens, Georgia. His body was returned to Greenville, S. C., and he was buried beside his wife in Springwood Cemetery.

JOHN BENSON WIER, JR.

John Benson Wier, Jr., was the second child and the eldest son of John Benson Wier and Julia Williamene Smith, and was born in Greenville, S. C., on June 16, 1888. He had one sister Carrie Ama Wier and four brothers—Van Noy Wier, William Alexander Wier, Augustus Lythgoe Wier, and Julian Wier, who died in infancy. In Greenville the family home was 627 North Main Street, and it was in this house that all the children were born.

His education began in the public schools of Greenville; and later when his family moved to Athens, Georgia, he went to the public schools of that city. He attended the University of Georgia in Athens for four years, and graduated with a degree of Civil Engineering on June 16, 1909. He was very much interested in athletics, and he helped to organize the first basketball team at the University and was an important member of that team. He also played on the University football team. He was a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity at the University of Georgia. After graduating, he remained for one year at the University as an instructor on physics.

He accepted a position with J. E. Sirrine Engineers of Greenville, S. C., and was lent by them to a group of Engineers at Tallulah Falls, Georgia, where he spent three years on the construction of a hydro-electric power plant at that location. At the completion of this plant, he was taken to New York City by Charles O. Loenz as consulting engineer and was engaged in the design of hydro-electric and steam power plants.

He joined the Southern Cotton Oil Co., at Savannah, Georgia, in 1914, where he remained until transferred to their New Orleans plant in 1917. He became the Works Superintendent of this plant, which was engaged in all phases of the manufacture of edible and non-edible products of vegetable oil. The name of this company was later changed to the Wesson Oil and Snowdrift Company, Inc. His work for this company, in addition to being consultant in design, building and operation of seafood indutry plants, which were subsidiaries of this company, which also had vegetable oil and soap plants in Cuba and Honduras. He spent some time with these foreign plants as engineer and consultant. He was retired by the company on December 31, 1958.

He was a member for many years of the American Society of Engineers and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

He joined the church of his parents in Greenville, S. C., at the First Presbyterian Church under Dr. T. W. Sloan as pastor. He then attended the First Presbyterian Church at Athens, later moving his membership to the Presbyterian Church at New Orleans.

During the Second World War, and for many years while in New Orleans, he was a member of the U. S. Naval Intelligence and held a commission as Lieutenant j.g. in the U. S. Naval Reserve. At the time this was a more or less "top-secret."

On July 21, 1915, he married Mary Jane Schofield of Macon, Georgia, the wedding being held at All Saints Church, Atlanta, Georgia. They have one son, John Benson Wier, III, who was born on December 23, 1926. J. B. Wier, III, graduated from Tulane University and later did post graduate work at the Louisiana State University. He is now a geologist with an oil company, his work taking him to various foreign countries.

KATHERINE SLOAN WIER

Katherine Sloan Wier was the eldest daughter of John Alexander Wier and Susan Majors Benson. She was born on August 4, 1852, in Anderson, S. C. Her parents moved to Abbeville shortly after. This was the home of her father and her grandfather, and all of the brothers and sisters were born here.

"Aunt Kate" as she was known by me (Henry B. McKoy) and by many others, holds a very special place in my heart and memory, and she had a very definite influence on my life by one of her many kind deeds. During the First World War, in 1917, I was sent from Wilmington, N. C., my home, to Camp Sevier, located a few miles from Greenville, S. C. On my first visit to the town I attempted to locate Col. William Robertson, a friend of my family and a former Wilmingtonian. I located the house but was unable to get any response to my knocking, so I walked into the yard to examine it better and to find whether it had been deserted. A grey-haired lady from the adjoining porch called to me and asked, "Can I be of any assistance?" I answered "Yes mam," and told her whom I was looking for. She explained that Col. Robertson had gone to war and that Mrs. Robertson had moved to the other side of town. "But," she said, "Won't you come in and talk with me?" I was a soldier, alone and a stranger. I was ready and anxious to talk with anyone, especially so kind a lady. I agreed quickly and went and sat with her on the porch at 606 E. Washington Street. Within a few minutes her sister came in from a walk, and brought with her two young ladies to whom I was introduced. They were Ruth and Sue Carpenter. I was invited to supper and I accepted. Much later I asked Sue Carpenter to marry me and she accepted.

Katherine Sloan Wier had one sister and two brothers who lived to maturity. They were John Benson Wier, born December 22, 1854, died November 25, 1943; Joel Cunningham Wier, born July 8, 1859, died December 19, 1931; and Margaret Ann Wier, born June 26, 1864, died August 10, 1952.

Her father was a merchant in Abbeville, S. C., but during the Confederate War, being too old for active service and wanting to do what he could to assist the cause, took employment as a civilian in the quartermaster department of the Confederate Army, and was in charge of the commissary at Charleston, S. C. He was there in 1863 and 1864.

During the latter part of this struggle when the Yankee soldiers and the Carpetbaggers were roaming the South, helping themselves to anything that they found of value and destroying much that they could not carry, Katherine's father placed the family silver in her care. She hid it somewhere in the barn or the yard. After order had been partially restored, she was unable to locate it. Whether her memory was at fault or it had been stolen is not known to this day. The silver is still missing.

Kate, as she was called, had considerable talent. She originated and developed an art using minute strands of cotton which she placed on paper or cloth to depict scenes and figures. Her "cotton pictures" of water, boats, clouds and birds are particularly fine; however, some of her best were of faces and forms. She won a number of gold medals and citations for her art. The first was given her at the Cotton Exposition in Atlanta, Georgia, in 1881. Another was won at the Cotton States and International Exposition in Atlanta in 1895 and again in 1902. In 1898, at Charleston, S. C., she received a medal for her work. She sold many of these pictures and gave even more of them away as presents. Some are still owned and treasured by the family.

She loved and enjoyed poetry. She was always putting her thoughts to rhythm and was most happy when composing a poem about someone or for someone she knew and loved. Among her poems that were published were "The Song of Chick Springs" and "The Goldenrod."

She was an expert milliner. She did not work at it commercially but she made many hats and altered many more for her friends and relatives. It was seldom that she appeared on the streets without first making some change to her own hat.

Her father moved to Greenville with his family in 1878, and they lived with her brother, John Benson Wier, at 627 N. Main Street. She married William Berry Wynne on December 18, 1879. He was born on January 10, 1820. He died on December 24, 1893. There were no children.

She was originally a member of the Long Cane Presbyterian Church, near Abbeville, later moving her membership to the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, and finally to the Fourth

Presbyterian Church, which was nearer to her home; and it was here that she remained a faithful member until her death.

Before 1900 she lived with her sister, Mrs. Thomas S. Carpenter, on Hampton Ave. and moved with her to 606 E. Washington Street, where she lived until she died.

She loved her family, her friends and her church; and with what meager means she had, her heart and her hands were always at their disposal.

Katherine Sloan Wier Wynne died on March 14, 1942, being ninety years of age. The funeral was held at her church in Greenville and her body was interred near her father and mother in the family plot of Long Cane Presbyterian Church near Abbeville, S. C.

MARGARET ANN WIER

1864—1952

Margaret Ann Wier was born on June 26, 1864, in Abbeville, South Carolina. She was the daughter of John Alexander Wier and Susan Majors Benson. She was one of eight children, of which one sister, Katherine Sloan Wier, and two brothers, John Benson Wier and Joel Cunningham Wier, lived to maturity. The house in which she was born was the family home located on Main St. in Abbeville, S. C.; and it is still standing, now owned by the city and used as a community gathering place. She lived here until 1878, when her father and family moved to Greenville, S. C.

She was educated in private schools of Abbeville, one of which was known as Miss Perry's. Her sister Kate also assisted in teaching her. At that time it was almost unheard of for a young lady to work out; but in an effort to add to the family income, she retouched photographs for J. C. Fitzgerald, who was the leading photographer for Greenville County.

Confirming the changes in climate since that time, she often told of how the Reedy River Meadow used to freeze over and how she used to ice skate there.

She was one of the early members of the Rotary Book Club, which was organized in 1900 and in which she took a great interest. She maintained her membership until three years before her death.

At the time of her death she was one of the oldest members of the First Presbyterian Church, having joined this church under the Rev. Robert H. Nall, D. D., when it was known as the Greenville Presbyterian Church. She served under Dr. John M. Rose, Dr. T. W. Sloan, and Dr. Charles H. Nabers.

Copied from the Presbyterian Bulletin on December 1951: "Mrs. T. S. Carpenter, (Annie Wier Carpenter), for seventy two years (except for about a year at Pelzer) has been a regular and devoted member of our church. This good woman is but extending over her long life, the influence of her Christian parents and is projecting into generations yet unborn her loyalty and Christian faith. Even at the age of 87, she is faithful at church and Sunday School, and loves her circle contacts. She is the mother of Mrs. H. B. McKoy (he is a deacon), and T. S. Carpenter also a deacon, and the aunt of A. Lythgoe Wier, an elder."

Margaret Ann Wier
Wife of Thomas Summerfield Carpenter
Born 1864 – Died 1952

She received the following letter on Mothers Day in 1935:

> Most of us like to be liked, and I am sure that there is no one, who enjoys this any more than myself, or any fre'er to admit it. But I think that most of us fail to get the full pleasure out of liking or loving others; that is possible, because first, although we realize it subconsciously, we do not acknowledge it to ourselves. And second, we do not get the benefit of pleasure shared, when we neglect to express our love.
> Since first we met, some sixteen years ago, you have always been the same sweet and gentle woman, both to others and to me. You have treated me not according to my deserts, but strictly to my liking. I have enjoyed and look forward to enjoying, with some degree of selfishness, your continued good will.
> I am proud to have been your son 'under the law.' Of my own free will I have enjoyed having you a second mother. Signed Henry B. McKoy.

She married Thomas Summerfield Carpenter on June 4, 1890. They were married at the home of her brother at 627 North Main St., in Greenville, in a house now occupied by E. A. Gilfillin. The services were performed by the Rev. J. M. Rose, the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. I have been told that Mr. Carpenter was much provoked for the minister was late, evidently coming after the Wednesday prayer meeting.

The first night of their marriage was spent in the family home and the couple left early the next day by train for Pelzer, S. C., where Mr. Carpenter was in the drug business. About a year later he entered into a partnership with his brothers and moved the drug business to Greenville, where he was associated with it until his death.

When they moved to Greenville, they first lived in a one story frame house on the west side of Townes St. about one block north of College Street. It was here that their first child was born, Sue Wier Carpenter, on December 24, 1891. They next moved to 445 Hampton Avenue and remained there until December 27, 1911, when they moved into their final home at 606 E. Washington Street.

They had the following children:

Sue Wier Carpenter	b. Dec. 24, 1891	d.
Loulie Carpenter	b. May 24, 1894	d. in infancy
Kathleen Carpenter	b. Jan. 1, 1899	d. in infancy
Margaret Ruth Carpenter	b. Dec. 21, 1900	d.
Thomas Summerfield Carpenter	b. Aug. 14, 1905	d.

There are several photographs taken of Margaret Ann Wier as a young lady. One taken in 1886 shows her sitting in a heavy chair leaning slightly on one of the arms. She is dressed in white, and the dress has many frills and furbelows. The face shows her earnest, sweet, and gently disposition, that all who knew her at that age can recognize. Her forehead is framed in a series of tight circular curls, although the rest of the hair is plastered down and straight. Another picture taken about the same time shows her in a high collared black coat, wearing a higher straw hat decorated with much ribbon and beads.

Annie Wier Carpenter died on August 10, 1952, at 8 A. M., at the age of eighty-eight. The funeral was held in the First Presbyterian Church which she had loved and served so long, and the funeral was conducted by Dr. Charles H. Nabers. She was buried in Springwood Cemetery, Greenville, S. C., beside her husband. The pallbearers were all her nephews; Richard Carpenter, Baxter Carpenter, Davis Carpenter, Lewis Carpenter, William Lee Carpenter, A. Lythgoe Wier, Van Noy Wier and Joel Wier.

MARGARET ISABELLA WIER

1832—1913

Margaret Isabella Wier was the second child of John Wier and Margaret Wilson. She was born in Abbeville District on August 20, 1832.

She married Augustus Jackson Lythgoe. He was born on February 16, 1830, and died on December 12, 1862.

At one time Augustus Lythgoe was in business with John Alexander Wier in Abbeville, S. C. The following was copied from the Abbeville Independent Press of September 25, 1857: "Passing up from the court house we first reach the fine brick corner store of Messers Wier and Lythgoe, who have just received an extensive stock from New York, which they are selling at most liberal terms."

At the beginning of the Confederate War, Mr. Lythgoe joined in with the Southern cause. There is a metal marker on Main Street in the town of Abbeville, S. C. that states that Augustus Jackson Lythgoe was one of the five colonels that Abbeville gave to the Confederacy. He was killed at the Battle of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, where he was with the 13th South Carolina Volunteers, and he was buried on the battle field. There is a grave stone erected to him at Long Cane Cemetery near Abbeville in the Wier lot which is marked, "Col. Augustus Jackson Lythgoe born February 16th, 1830; Died December 31st, 1862. Killed in action and buried at Murfreesboro, Tennessee."

Margaret Isabella Wier and Augustus Jackson Lythgoe had the following children: John Wier Lythgoe, born April 10, 1852, died March 21, 1854; Meta Ann Lythgoe, born September 14, 1855, died July 8, 1930; George Birkenhead Lythgoe, born August 29, 1857, died May 5, 1930; and Harriet Henry Lythgoe, born January 22, 1859, died February 22, 1878.

Harriet Henry Lythgoe, Meta Ann Lythgoe and her brother George Birkenhead Lythgoe, moved to Atlanta, Georgia, where the latter was employed as a stenographer and accountant. They owned a house which was destroyed in the great Atlanta fire. They later bought a home where they lived until their deaths. Neither Meta nor George ever married. Harriet Lythgoe married E. C. Graydon, but they had no children.

SUSAN CATHERINE WIER

On September 29th, 1897, Susan Catherine Wier was born, in the family home on Cambridge Street at the town of Ninety Six, S. C. She was the daughter of Sarah Elizabeth Burns and Joel Cunningham Wier. Her father and mother were both natives of Abbeville, S. C., and they moved to Ninety Six after their marriage. She was one of a family of seven children, three of which are living in the year 1959.

Susan Catherine Wier was known to all as Catherine or "Cat." She attended the local graded schools, and graduated from the Ninety Six, S. C. High School in 1916. She then graduated from the Georgia State Normal School at Athens, Georgia in the year 1918. She was a member of the Mildred Rutherford Society during the years 1916, 1917 and 1918.

She has spent her life in the instruction of the youth of our State and immediately upon finishing school embarked upon that noble and little appreciated career. She taught first in Pelzer, S. C. in the fifth grade from 1918 until 1922. Then followed, the fourth grade at Bishopville 1922 until 1926, the DuRant School of Lee County 1941 through 1947, the Hebron School of Lee County and then the Bishopville School of Lee County, S. C. After thirty-four years of teaching she has decided to take a rest and has resigned to take effect at the end of the school year in 1959.

She joined the Presbyterian Church of Ninety Six, S. C. and upon moving to Bishopville, S. C., placed her membership in the Bishopville Presbyterian Church where she is still a member. She is an active member of the American Legion Auxilliary and the local garden club.

She married Harrell Alexander DuRant on January 16, 1926 in Bishopville, S. C., where he was employed by the Bank of Bishopville. He also worked in the Banks of Hartsville and Florence, S. C. as Cashier.

They had one daughter, Lily Wier DuRant, who was born March 26, 1934, and who married John Dew Martin on June 24, 1956. Lily and her husband, John Martin, are now living in Kershaw, S. C. Lily Wier finished at Columbia College in Columbia, S. C., and taught school in Camden, S. C., until her marriage.

WILLIAM ALEXANDER WIER
1894–1953

William Alexander Wier was the fourth child of John Benson Wier and Julia Williamene Smith. He was born at the family home on North Main Street in Greenville, S. C., on April 18, 1894.

He attended the graded schools of Athens, Georgia, where his father moved in the year 1900 and took charge of a cotton oil mill. He graduated from the University of Georgia.

During the War he served in Europe with the Red Cross Ambulance Service; and afterwards, he attended the University of Birmingham in England, in 1919, through the courtesy of the English Speaking Union. Upon returning to the United States, he first entered the automobile business and went to Charleston, S. C., in 1921.

William Alexander Wier married Mary Cuttino Thornhill on March 15, 1923. He had the following children: William Alexander Wier Jr., born on February 27, 1927, who married Jean Elizabeth Garrison on September 30, 1950. They have two children William Alexander III and Jean Elizabeth Wier. Margaret Thornhill Wier, born March 28, 1930, married Rev. John Borden Evans on June 8, 1955. They have three children: John Borden Evans, Jr., Alexander Wier Evans, and David Evans.

William Alexander Wier joined the Presbyterian Church in Athens, Georgia, and upon moving to Charleston transferred to the First (Scots) Presbyterian Church of that city, where he first became a deacon, then chairman of that board, and later was ordained an Elder, which position he retained until his death.

He was a charter member of the Charleston Kiwanis Club and was president of that organization in 1936. He was a director of the Charleston Chamber of Commerce. He was a Stewart and a former Chief Stewart of St. Andrews Society. He was a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity at the University of Georgia. He was also Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Colin McK. Grant Home.

He was part owner and executive of the Charles Oil Company, and became President of the South Carolina Oil Jobbers Association and Past President of the Charleston Petroleum Industries Committee. He was also member of the YMCA Board of Directors and of the Country Club of Charleston, S. C.

He was buried from the First Presbyterian Church of Charleston, S. C., with the Rev. Edward G. Lilly officiating and was interred at Magnolia Cemetery.

There was an editorial in the News and Courier of Charleston which stated in part "Alex Wier so far as we know, never shirked a responsibility to his friends or to his community. His friendly, unselfish manner won him a host of admirers, all of whom mourn his untimely passing."

VAN NOY WIER

Van Noy Wier has returned to Greenville, S. C., to make it his home. He was born in Greenville but moved to Athens, Georgia, when his father moved the family to engage in the cotton oil business there in the year 1900. In Greenville, the family home was 627 North Main Street, and it was here Van Noy was born and lived until he was about eight years old.

The Van Noy in his name came from his grandmother on his Mother's side. She was a Van Noy from Port Jervis, New York. He was the third child of a family of six that were born to Julia Williamene Smith and John Benson Wier, which included Carrie Ama Wier, born September 18, 1885; John Benson Wier, Jr., born June 16, 1888; Van Noy Wier, born April 4, 1891; Julian Wier, born July 27, 1892, died June 2, 1893; William Alexander Wier, born April 18, 1894, died November 25, 1953; and Augustus Lythgoe Wier, born September 28, 1898.

His education began in the public schools of Greenville; and upon moving to Athens, Georgia, he continued it in the graded and high schools of that city. He graduated from the Athens High School in 1910. He attended the University of Georgia as a member of the class of 1915 for one year. He then attended the Georgia School of Technology, majoring in Textile Engineering, with the class of 1915.

For two years between college and the First World War, he lived in Savannah, Georgia, and was employed by the Appraisal Company. After the war, he returned to Athens and worked for the Southern Cotton Oil Company, becoming manager of the Athens branch in 1924. He remained in this position until 1946, when he resigned from the Southern Cotton Oil Company and became manager of the Hodgson Oil Refining Company of Athens until 1954 when he returned to Greenville, S. C., and became associated with his brother Augustus Lythgoe Wier, in the Associated Oil Company in that city.

Van Noy Wier married Janie Amanda Morse of Abbeville, S. C., on August 20, 1919. She was born on April 7, 1893. They have one son, Van Noy Wier, Jr., who was born on January 14, 1927. He married Mildred Zelene White on October 9, 1954. She was born on July 4, 1927. They have two children, Janie Amanda Wier and Van Noy Wier, III.

Van Noy Wier, while in Savannah, Georgia, was connected with the Savannah Volunteer Guards and was sent to the Officers Training Camp at Fortress Monroe, Virginia, where he was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in Heavy Artillery. He went overseas in September 1918, serving in France and Germany with the 54th Artillery C.A.C. and returned to the United States in January 1919 and was discharged. He is a Charter Member of the Allen R. Fleming Post No. 20 of the American Legion of Athens, Georgia.

He was baptised in the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, S. C., and was early connected with the Sunday School there. He joined the First Presbyterian Church of Athens, Georgia, where he was elected a Deacon and later was made an Elder. Upon moving back to Greenville, he affiliated himself and family again with the church of his youth and became a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, S. C., where he has assumed an active interest.

Van Noy Wier took an active part in the formation and became a Charter Member of the Kiwanis Club of Athens, Georgia. He was elected its Secretary and Treasurer and he served in that position for twenty eight years until he moved from the city. In Greenville he affiliated with the Downtown Kiwanis Club which he joined in 1954.

Even as a child he was called "Happy." In Athens, where he grew up and lived for so many years, he was known as "Happy Wier," to the extent that many people failed to understand when "Van Noy Wier" was mentioned. It was indeed a "happy" choice in nicknames and best describes his pleasing and happy personality. "Happy Wier" is a fisherman. He likes to fish, he knows how to fish, and he goes fishing. At any time while not fishing, he will be pleased to discuss the subject with you. He is an asset to his church, his city, and any group at which he happens to be present.

MARGARET ANN WILSON

Margaret Ann Wilson was born March 29, 1794. She was the daughter of George Wilson, who lived near Saluda River in Abbeville District, South Carolina. George Wilson lived on the main road opposite the old Greenville Presbyterian Church and kept a state coach tavern. He married Ann Richey, who was the daughter of Mary Caldwell and James Richey, Sr.; Ann Richey was born in 1758 and died in 1799. George Wilson served as a private in the Revolutionary War. He is buried alongside his wife in the Greenville Presbyterian Church Cemetery; and about 1950, the D.A.R.'s erected there two marble stones to their memory.

Margaret Ann Wilson married John Wier, Jr., on November 28, 1815. He was born November 28, 1781, and was also the son of a soldier in the Revolutionary War named John Wier, Sr., 1750-1780.

Margaret Ann Wilson and her husband sailed on a boat from Charleston, S. C., to the West Indies, on their bridal tour. There her husband became attracted by the beauty and opportunities of that country and they decided to settle and live there. It was here that their first child, John Alexander Wier, was born on January 12, 1816. Several months after the child was born, they returned to Abbeville District on a visit to the family, friends, and the old home site, leaving their property in "Cat Island," Little San Salvadore, in the care of a relative. However, they found the ties at home too strong to break again; and John Wier, Jr., bought a plantation about four miles away from the village of Abbeville, S. C., and they lived there for several years, later moving into the village itself.

To this union the following children were born: John Alexander Wier, born January 12, 1816, died September 8, 1886; Ann Wier, born November 1, 1819, died August 6, 1842; Mary Jane Wier, born June 15, 1825, died July 11, 1846; Margaret Isabella Wier, born August 20, 1832, died June 6, 1913.

Margaret Ann Wilson died on November 27, 1848, and is buried at Upper Long Cane Church Cemetery, along side her husband. The grave is marked by a single marble slab about three feet by six feet, which is supported by solid brick to a height of thirty inches. Both grave stones are in excellent condition. On the top of the slab is engraved the following:—"SACRED TO THE MEMORY OF, Margaret Wier, consort of John Wier. Born 29th March 1794. Died 27th, November, 1848. Age 54 years 7 months 28 days. A member of the Presbyterian Church for 35 years. She adorned her profession in the various relations of a wife, mother and neighbor. She died in peace. A holy quiet reigns around, a calm which life nor death destroys. Nothing disturbs the peace profound, which her unfretted soul enjoys."

THE NAME AND FAMILY OF SLOAN

The name of Sloan or Sloane is of ancient Celtic origin, and it is said by some historians to have been derived from the name Sluaghan, meaning "soldier" or "warrior." One writer on the subject says, "In Scotland a sloan is a covetous person," but the derivation given above is more generally accepted. In early records the name is found in various forms of Sluaghan, Slughain, Sluaighin, Slone, Slon, Sloyan, Sloyne, Sloan, Sloane, and others, of which the two spellings last mentioned are those most frequently found in America in modern times.

One branch of this family was represented in the early seventeenth century by Alexander Sloan, of Killileagh or White's Castle, in the county of Down Ireland. He, like most of the family, was of the landed or merchant class and held the office of Receiver General to the Lord Claneboy of the taxes of that county. Alexander married Sarah, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Hicks, of Winchester, chaplain to the Archbishop Laud, and had seven sons, James, Alexander, Henry, William, John, Robert, and Hans. Of these brothers Alexander, Henry, John, and Robert died without issue.

James Sloane, eldest son of Alexander and Sarah, was a lawyer and a member of Parliament for the County Norfolk. He died in 1704, leaving issue by his wife, Mary Rumbold, of a son named Joseph.

William Sloane, fourth son of Alexander and Sarah, resided in Chelsea, County Middlesex, England. He married Jane, daughter of Alexander Hamilton, of County Down, and was the father by her of two children, William and Sarah, of whom the son married three times. His first wife was (?) Barret, daughter of Dacres Leonard Barret, Esq. of Essex; his second was Hesther, daughter of Sir Gilbert Heathcote, Knight and alderman of London; and the third was Elizabeth, the daughter of John Fuller, Esq., of Sussex.

Hans Sloane, the youngest son of Alexander and Sarah, became a physician and attained distinction, in his profession. He presided for several years over the College of Physicians and in 1716 was created a Baronet by King George I. Sir Hans married Elizabeth, the daughter of John Langley of London and the widow of Fulk Rose, of Jamaica. Sir Hans, however, left only female issue, two daughters, Sarah and Elizabeth, surviving him.

Another branch of the family was seated at an early date at Kirkcudbright, Scotland, and was represented about the middle of the eighteenth century by a Mr. Sloane (Christian name uncertain) who was the father in 1750 of a son, Ebeneazer Sloane. This Ebeneazer married Jane Brydson in 1772 and had issue by her of at least one son, named James, who was a prominent merchant at Glasgow, where he resided for over forty years.

While most of the Sloans and Sloanes of America are thought to have come from Ireland, many of them were undoubtedly of Scottish descent. It is probable that in many cases at least, they originated through the lines above mentioned, although the exact connections are not in evidence.

One of the first of this name in this country was William Sloan, who came from Ireland to Rutland, Massachusetts, sometime before 1729. He left at least one child, named Sarah, and probably had others as well, although his records are not complete.

Several members of the Sloan or Sloane family settled in Pennsylvania in the early eithteenth century, but their dates of emigration are difficult to determine. One John Sloan died in Hanover, Pennsylvania, in 1741, leaving issue by his wife, Jean, of James Robert, William, John, George, Sarah and Cinquas.

As early as 1751, the names of John and Samuel Sloan appear as adults at Hanover, and in 1769 the names of Samuel, James Archibald and Alexander are recorded. The exact connection between these lines has not, however been ascertained.

One Samuel, of Pennsylvania, who died during the Revolutionary period, left four brothers—John, James, Archibald and William. The brother Archibald may have been he who married Margaret Sloan in 1759, and took a second wife, Mary Craig, in 1766, but this fact is not certain.

Alexander Sloan (b. 1744) was married at Hanover before 1767 to Jean Moor, by whom he had issue John, Robert, Alexander, Isabella, James, William and Jean.

Of these, John married Elizabeth French, by whom he left issue in Ohio; Robert, who married in 1799 to Sarah McCormick, who gave him six children, Eliza, Alexander, Isabella, John, William, and Mary; Alexander, who married Jane French (sister of his brother's wife) and died at Williamsport, Pennsylvania; James, who married Nancy McCraight; and William, who died unmarried in 1818.

General Samuel Sloane, whose ancestry is now known, was born before 1748, possibly in Massachusetts. He resided at Williamston in that colony and married Olive Douglas, of New York. Their children were Olive, Mary, Maria and Douglas Wheeler Sloane.

David Sloan (ancestry unknown) was living at Shirley, Mass., about 1750 and was the father of a son of the same name, who married Rachel Gould in 1774. Both father and son served in the Revolutionary War.

Samuel Sloan, of Massachusetts, whose connection, if any, with the above lines is not known, was married in 1760 to Mary Sigourney, of Boston. Their children were Mary, Andrew Sigourney, Samuel, Agnes, and Hans.

William Sloan, who was living at Lyme, N. H., at an early date, removed to Palmer Mass., probably about 1760. By his wife Mary whom he married shortly before that date, he was the father of Joseph, Margaret, Mary, John, and Sarah.

William Sloane, of Lyme, N. H., and later of Bridgewater, New York, was undoubtedly of the last mentioned line. He married Sarah Nelson of Hanover, N. H., about 1778 and was the father by her of, among others, a son named John Nelson Sloane, who married Cynthia Strong.

The Sloans of Virginia, probably a branch of the Pennsylvania family, were represented about the middle of the eighteenth century by one John Sloan, who died in 1830, leaving issue by his wife, Polly Shiled, of Alexander, James, Mary Robert, Jackson, Rachel, Matthew and John. This family resided in Rockbridge County, Va.

A patriotic, idealistic race, the Sloans and Sloanes have shown themselves to possess considerable ingenuity, determination of purpose, leadership and executive, legislative and intellectual ability.

Among those of the name who served the American cause during the Revolutionary War were Lieutenant Alexander Sloan of Connecticut; Lieutenant Archibald Sloan of New Hampshire; Lieutenants David, Alexander, Allen, Andrew, Archibald, John Harket, James, Lawrence, Patrick, Robert, Samuel, Thomas, and William Sloan or Sloanes, of Pennsylvania; Captain Samuel, Lieutenant Sturgin, Lieutenant Alexander, Captains George, David, David Jr., George Jr., Ezekiel, Hugh, Israel, James, Captain John, Norman, Robert, and Sergeant William Sloan, or Sloane, of Massachusetts. Bryant, David, John, Thomas, and William Sloan, or Sloane, of Virginia. Hugh and Stephen Sloan of New York, Thomas Sloan of New York, and many more from the various other states of that period.

ALEXANDER SLOAN

Born 11th of Sept. 1826
Died in the (10th.) (I can not make this out) YEAR OLD.
(This grave is in a lot with MAULDIN.)

Leaving a wife and four children, always distinguishel by his industrious habits and upright deportment. The conspicuous part that he bore in erecting the Academy and other public buildings, in this village attests his liberality and enterprise.

He invariably maintained the strictest integrity and carried with him to an early grave a character marked with few faults and graced with many of the brightest virtues.

Heaven gave us friends to bless the present scene, and to prepare us for the next.

ELIZABETH D. SLOAN

Wife of Alexander Sloan
Born July 18, 1779
Died Nov. 10, 1844

She survived her husband by 18 years.

SACRED TO THE MEMORY OF

Margaret Wier, Consort of John Wier, born 29th of March 1794, died 27th of November 1848. Age 54 years 7 months and 28 days. A Member of The Presbyterian Church for 35 years. She adorned her profession, in the various relations of wife, Mother and Neighbour. She died in peace. A holy quiet reign around, a calm, which life nor death destroys. Nothing disturbs that peace profound. Which her unfettered soul enjoys.

IN MEMORY OF

John Wier, born 28th of November 1781, died the 17th of February 1849. Age 67 years 2 months and 17 days. A Member of The Presbyterian Church for 35 years. He was esteemed, an upright man, and an humble Christian, affectionate in his family and kind to all. He died as he had lived, in peace with God and all mankind. The memory of the just is blessed.

(The above two graves have raised brick enclosures covered with a single slab of marble on which the above is cut. The graves adjoin the Lythgoe lot.) HBM.

GENEALOGY

The one who is not interested in genealogy, in truth does not care about himself. For he is physically, morally and mentally a part and parcel of his ancestors.

How can he understand his own motives, his intentions, yes, even his own thoughts, unless he knows from whence they came, and the reasons they have descended to him?

One can not comprehend the present except by a study of the past. One can not prepare himself for the future, unless he understands the present through the past. There has been in the past both bad and good. Take them both. Avoid one and emulate the other.
